Integrationists Continue Assault

27 Of 'Freedom Riders' Go On Trial In Jackson

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Segregation-defying "Freedom Riders" were scheduled to go on trial in Jackson City Court today as integrationists continued their massive assault on "Jim Crow" barriers throughout the Deep South.

Trial of the 27 Freedom Riders —25 Negroes and two whites—is set for 5 p.m. in the same courtroom where earlier this year other Negroes were convicted for attempts to integrate Jackson's main public library and city bus system.

At the trial of the library integrationists, club-swinging policemen using trained dogs dispatched a large crowd of hymn-singing Negroes outside the court building.

The 27 Freedom Riders were arrested Wednesday after their arrival on two separate buses from Montgomery.

They were charged under the same breach of peace statute used in the previous integration attempts here. They also face an additional charge of disobeying an officer. If convicted of both charges, they face a maximum six-month jail term and $500 fines.

In Washington, Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy ordered withdrawal of all but 100 of the 600 federal marshals sent into Montgomery, Ala., during last weekend's rioting.

Kennedy's action was protested by Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. In a telegram from Atlanta, the Rev. Mr. King urged that the federal marshals remain in Montgomery "at this crucial moment." He also warned that "a potential reign of terror still exists" in the Alabama capital.

Mississippi Gov. Ross Barnett promised speedy arrest of any additional Freedom Riders who violate state segregation laws.

'Riders' Step Up Segregation Assault

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — With some of their leaders in jail and another ambushed by rifle fire, "Freedom Riders" stepped up their assault on segregation today both in and out of court.

A spokesman predicted a massive demonstration against bus station racial barriers in waiting rooms and restrooms when Negro college students start for home in the next few days.

Segregation-challenging bus riders waited for a hearing on a federal court suit filed here on Thursday to block enforcement of racial barriers in interstate terminals.

The suit seeks an injunction to prohibit Montgomery police from arresting Negroes for violating segregation laws or for violation of a state court order against continued "Freedom rides."

The Negro leaders held in jail included the Rev. Ralph D. Abernathy, president of the Montgomery Improvement Association; the Rev. F. L. Shuttlesworth, head of the Alabama Christian Movement for Human Rights in Birmingham and the Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker of Atlanta, executive secretary of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference.

They were among the six who chose to remain in custody rather than seek immediate release on bond.

Another Negro minister, the Rev. Solomon S. Seay Sr., 62, still has a bullet in his wrist. He said it was fired by a group of white youths who raced past his home at high speed.

School Bill Heading For House Fight

$2.5 Billion Aid Measure Approved By Senate, 49-34

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's $2.55 billion public school aid bill, having vaulted the Senate handily, heads today into an expected bitter showdown in the House.

The Senate passed the measure Thursday night 49 to 34, climaxing eight days of debate. It is one of the "big five" bills in Kennedy's 1961 legislative program.

Its supporters said today they expect the school bill will clear the House by a slim margin, although it may be trimmed before it passes.

All in all, federal aid to education advocates believe this is the best chance they have ever had to get such legislation enacted.

The bill's Senate sponsors were a little disappointed in the final vote. It was lower than they had expected because of many absentees.

The tally would have been 59-41 if all 100 senators had been present to vote their announced positions. As it was 41 Democrats and 1 Republicans voted for it, 22 Republicans and 12 Democrats against it.

A similar bill has been approved by the House Education and Labor Committee. It may reach the floor in the week of June 4.

Even if the bill gets through the House, its sponsors concede that the funds for teacher salaries provision may be knocked out.

If this should happen, the basis for a possible compromise was laid in Senate debate. The bill, as it reached the Senate floor, made the grants available for teacher salaries or school construction.

A floor amendment, accepted by the administration, broadened this to include spending for such operating expenses as school buses, textbooks and libraries.

The bill passed by the Senate authorized $850 million a year in grants for the next three years to try to help states equalize educational opportunities.

It also extends for three more years the impacted area program of aid to school districts with enrollments swollen because of nearby federal installations. Payments under this program next year are estimated at $10 million.

The grants in the general school aid bill would be paid on a sliding scale, the poorest state getting three times as much as the richest.

Texas would get the largest amount of annual aid, $57,967,084, Nevada the smallest, $1,038,379. The largest per pupil allotment would be $27.74 for Arkansas, Mississippi and South Carolina, the smallest $9.25 for Connecticut.

$4.7 Billion President's Goal In '62

Cites Importance Of Protecting Free World Against Reds

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy asked Congress today for a drastic overhaul of the foreign aid program, a $4.75 billion aid effort for next year and a multi-billion loan system for future years.

Kennedy said the proposed long-range program is of "paramount importance" for protection of the free world against the Communist threat.

The President made his proposal in a letter to Congress transmitting the legislation he wants enacted.

A number of influential legislators have shown coolness to parts of the Kennedy package, however, and what type of bill Congress will finally approve remains uncertain.

In what would be the most drastic shakeup since the aid program got under way on a large scale after World War II, Kennedy proposed establishment of a single aid organization combining previously separate units.

The new master aid agency would be called A.I.D. (The Agency for International Development). Its head would have undersecretary of state rank and would report to the secretary of state and the President.

Under Kennedy's bill arms aid would be separated from economic aid in the future, and would be treated as part of the regular U.S. defense budget.

Midland Aids Sewage Fight At Industry

Council Will Back Adjacent Borough In Opposing Plan

Midland Council Thursday evening decided to back Industry Borough in its stand against a lagoon-type sewage system proposed by Beaver and West Bridgwater.

Council approved resolutions for Atty. Robert Masters, borough solicitor, to send to the Pennsylvania State Regional Sanitation Board and the Water Sanitation Board in Harrisburg.

Burgess Eli Corak, who recommended the action, said Calvin Dunlap, president of Industry Council, has requested assistance in the move against the project.

Industry Council has sent letters to state leaders, including Gov. David Lawrence protesting the proposed sewage system, which would overlap into Industry. Petitions are also being circulated among Industry residents.

Midland Council approved a motion of Councilman Harvey Sponcer that a resolution be sent the resolutions committee of the Pennsylvania State Borough Association, asking that fines be raised by the state in order to force strip mine operators to fill in the holes.

Borough officials will attend the association's convention next month.

Sponcer said the fine is so low that it is cheaper for the mine operators to pay rather than restore the land. He said the diggings detract from the beauty of the state's countrysides.

Burgess Corak and R. E. Steebner, borough engineer, said they have received letters from the State Highway Department at Harrisburg, advising that Route 68 in the borough will be resurfaced this year. Coark said he is waiting word from the department's district office in Pittsburgh as to when the work will begin.

Steebner reported that the plumbers' strike in Beaver County has ended and work is progressing at the new sewage treatment plant. He said contractors wanted to be out by June 1, but the strike held up work, and it may be June 10 or June 15 before they are finished.

The road to the plant was finished yesterday and the fence has been installed and land graded but not seeded.

Area Offices, Stores Will Take Holiday

Public offices, most businesses and some of the area's industry will observe the Memorial Day holiday Tuesday, closing or curtailing.

City Hall will be closed Tuesday only, as will the Courthouse at Lisbon.

East Liverpool area potteries expect to curtail production Monday, with a general shutdown Tuesday, except for essential operations.

Also to be closed will be the East Liverpool and Wellsville State Liquor Stores, the Wellsville and East Liverpool Carnegie Libraries, the Ohio State Employment Service office, area banks and loan firms, and the Post Offices at Wellsville and East Liverpool.

The Employment Service said Tuesday's claimants are to report Monday. Mail will be received and dispatched at the Post Offices but no home deliveries will be made and the windows will be closed.

Despite the holiday Tuesday, most East Liverpool stores also will close at noon Wednesday, as usual.

The Chester Municipal Water Works office at the City Hall, and the West Virginia State Liquor Store in Chester will be closed.

The Hancock County Courthouse in New Cumberland will be closed both Monday and Tuesday. All other county offices will also observe the holiday, except the office of Sheriff Joseph H. Manypenny.

At the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., all departments will work Memorial Day with the exception of the bar mill, No. 2 finishing mill, National Drawn and Titanium, the company announced.

Departments down for the holiday will resume operations according to their work schedules, the company said.

L. R. Brown, plant manager at the Mackintosh-Hemphill Division of the E. W. Bliss Co. at Midland, said operations will be down one day, Monday midnight to Tuesday midnight.

7,000 Take Peace Corps Tests Today

Are Candidates For Volunteer Service In Nations Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some 7,000 candidates will puzzle over a 5½-hour written examination Saturday for the privilege of working long hours at low pay among living conditions often far below U.S. standards.

These are the candidates for volunteer service overseas with America's Peace Corps. They will start taking the examination at 8:30 a.m., local time, in 340 centers across the nation.

Although copies of the examination to be given are secret, the Peace Corps officials have made available sample questions. These afford other Americans an opportunity to match wits with Peace Corps candidates, if they desire.

The test is the initial step in screening out the human talent and skills which the United States will lend underdeveloped countries under a special program set up March 1 by President Kennedy.

The examination is basically of the multiple-choice variety. Seven sections are designed to determine the candidate's knowledge or aptitude in English, foreign language, U.S. history and institutions, farming, health sciences and mechanical skills.

Examination copies have been closely guarded but Dr. Nicholas Hobbs, director of personnel selection for the Peace Corps, said these are typical questions:

"A related pair of words or phrases is followed by five lettered pairs of words or phrases. Select the lettered pair which best expresses a relationship similar to that expressed in the original pair.

"Torch: Liberty — (A) Tray: Waiter (B) Scales: Justice (C) Candle: Poverty (D) Bars: Punishment (E) Lever: Power."

Former Grid Star Slashed In Club Fight

Beaver County Man Held In Injuring Of Henry Roach Jr.

Henry Roach Jr., 19, of 439 Virginia Ave. is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with a seven-inch razor slash across his back and a 26-year-old Aliquippa man is in jail, charged as the assailant during a fight in the Veterans Social Club on Pennsylvania Ave. early this morning.

Police said Roach was slashed about 12:15 this morning by Eugene Simmons Jr. when the two men argued over a game of pool.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff set $2,500 bond this morning for Simmons when he was arraigned on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The preliminary hearing was continued tentatively until Monday pending the release of Roach from the hospital.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle said Roach was slashed diagonally across the left side of the back about midway between the hip and the shoulder blade. No vital organs were struck, but Roach lost about a pint of blood, the captain said.

Roach played varsity halfback on the 1959 East Liverpool High School squad.

Simmons was in custody moments after the alleged cutting because Capt. Pyle and Patrolman Jack Stroble by coincidence were answering another call within sight of the club.

The two officers had gone to the First Federal Savings & Loan Association Building to check a report the burglar alarm was ringing. While they were awaiting the arrival of A. L. White, secretary-treasurer and manager of the association, they heard a commotion at the nearby club.

A man left the club and started to walk through Long Alley, adjoining the building. Two more men emerged and shouted to the officers: "Grab that man; he just cut a man inside!"

When the two officers started in pursuit of Simmons, he turned

2 Men Held For Slaying Of 2 Women

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—The partly-disrobed bodies of two socialites were found early today with the white Cadillac in which they had been abducted. One woman was strangled and the second was run over by the big car as she apparently tried to flee.

Several hours later police arrested two young Negroes and held them on suspicion of murder. Detective Daniel Hennessy said both denied any part in the crime but the officer said "They've both implicated themselves so far that they can't get out of it."

The dead were identified as Mrs. Elliot C. Ewell, 49, Westfield, the wife of the executive vice president of the Mack Truck Co. here, and Mrs. Robert Tyson, 50, Plainfield, whose husband is a New York stockbroker and also an executive with Mack.

The suspects are Lorelle Parks, 22, Plainfield, and Joseph Maxey, 23, Dunellen. Both are employes of Dom's Auto Sales in Plainfield.

Hennessy said the keys to the Cadillac as well as a wallet belonging to one of the woman were found in Parks' pocket. He said both men came here recently from the South.

Capt. Arthur Phillips tabbed the two as "definitely the men" sought in the double slaying.

Mrs. Ewell was found crumpled under the right front wheel of the car. Detectives said she must have been run down several times. Mrs. Tyson's body was on the floor in the back seat of the car. Articles of clothing were found in a field nearby.

Royal China Will Take Job Applications

Signup Of Workers Will Begin Monday In Palestine Plant

EAST PALESTINE — Applications for jobs at the W. S. George Pottery Co. Plant 1, now under a leasing arrangement with Royal China, Inc., of Sebring, will be received Monday, Miss Beatrice Miller, Royal president, announced.

Miss Miller, who said some $200,000 is being invested in equipment to start modernization of the George plant, expressed pleasure "at the co-operation I have received here."

She said the current cleanup by volunteers in the plant marked the "first time anyone has worked for me for nothing."

She said when she began the Royal firm in 1934 in the depths of the depression, "no one worked without money."

S. C. Henderson, Royal official, will take job applications and hold interviews Monday at the main floor office. Preference will be given former George workers and those who aided in the cleanup.

Miss Miller said she is planning installation in the near future of a circular cup spraying machine, nine printing machines for flatware and five for hollow ware, and by Sept. 1 will have a four-line automatic jigger in operation.

She said she plans to concen-

Nott Appeals Job Removal

Civil Service Board Will Set Hearing

William E. Nott, ordered removed from his police department patrolman's post May 15 on grounds of "inefficiency," has filed an appeal with the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The commission indicated today it expected to set a date for his hearing at its regular meeting Monday night at City Hall. Yesterday was the deadline for the officer to file for an appeal. Law fixes the deadline 10 days after the removal order was issued by Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver.

The commission has the right to "affirm, disaffirm or modify" the director's order after taking evidence from both sides in a court-like proceeding. In its last similar case, it modified the dismissal of a sewage plant worker into a payless 30-day suspension.

Nott's removal was ordered by the director on charges initiated by Chief Americo J. Radeschi. The chief charged that Nott had been off duty because of illness for 315 days in 52 months.

The chief's original order suspended the officer. After investigating the case, the director ordered the removal. After the commission's hearing, the next step up on the avenue of appeal is to Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Nott was appointed to the force in May 1956.

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today he expects Lt. Thomas A. Walker, acquitted May 16 on a larceny charge, will return to police department duty Wednesday as a 30-day leave of absence expires Tuesday. Lt. Walker was given a 30-day suspension in early April in connection with the disappearance of a TV set from the chief's office. Later the Grand Jury returned the larceny indictment and he was granted a 30-day leave pending the outcome of the case.

Delays Bothered Test Pilot

Walker Zooms X15 Jet At Record 3,370 M.P.H.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Technical delays had begun to bother test pilot Joe Walker. Then finally, on his seventh flight in the X15, he flew the rocket ship to a winged record of 3,370 miles per hour.

"I almost had a phobia about it," Walker, 40, told his wife later.

Grace Walker said her husband was referring to long periods of waiting in the cockpit of the stubby-winged craft, sometimes only to have the flight called off at the last moment.

But the test came off as planned Thursday. Walker's new mark is 296 m.p.h. faster than an X15 flight last April 21 by Air Force Maj. Bob White.

Only space men Yuri Gagarin and Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. have traveled at greater speeds.

Walker, veteran of fighter pilot service with the 15th Air Force in World War II, was dropped from a B52 mother ship at 45,000 feet Thursday. For 73 seconds he held the X15's throttle wide open.

His peak speed—nearly a mile a second—came during a steep climb at 90,000 feet. Then he switched off the powerful engine and coasted to 110,000 feet before nosing over and gliding back to base.

By comparison, Gagarin hit 17,000 m.p.h. during his orbit around the earth April 12 and Shepard sped 5,100 m.p.h. during his 115-mile rocket climb May 5.

Murder Trial Set June 5

Campbell To Face Jury For Shooting

The second degree murder trial of Raymond G. Campbell, 25, of East Liverpool is slated to begin June 5 in Common Pleas Court at Lisbon, Prosecutor G. William Brokaw said today.

Campbell, 618 River Rd. was indicted for the fatal shooting of his wife, Doris May Campbell, 22, at the Beechwood home Nov. 28.

Campbell, who pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity, has been returned from Lima State Hospital after a mental examination, and is currently free on $10,000 bond.

The trial, the next in the criminal docket, will be conducted before Judge Joel H. Sharp.

The examination is basically of the multiple-choice variety. Seven sections are designed to determine the candidate's knowledge or aptitude in English, foreign language, U.S. history and institutions, farming, health sciences and mechanical skills.

Examination copies have been closely guarded but Dr. Nicholas Hobbs, director of personnel selection for the Peace Corps, said these are typical questions:

"A related pair of words or phrases is followed by five lettered pairs of words or phrases. Select the lettered pair which best expresses a relationship similar to that expressed in the original pair.

"Torch: Liberty — (A) Tray: Waiter (B) Scales: Justice (C) Candle: Poverty (D) Bars: Punishment (E) Lever: Power."

Former Grid Star Slashed In Club Fight

Beaver County Man Held In Injuring Of Henry Roach Jr.

Henry Roach Jr., 19, of 439 Virginia Ave. is in "good" condition today at City Hospital with a seven-inch razor slash across his back and a 26-year-old Aliquippa man is in jail, charged as the assailant during a fight in the Veterans Social Club on Pennsylvania Ave. early this morning.

Police said Roach was slashed about 12:15 this morning by Eugene Simmons Jr. when the two men argued over a game of pool.

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff set $2,500 bond this morning for Simmons when he was arraigned on a charge of assault with a deadly weapon. The preliminary hearing was continued tentatively until Monday pending the release of Roach from the hospital.

Capt. Robert H. Pyle said Roach was slashed diagonally across the left side of the back about midway between the hip and the shoulder blade. No vital organs were struck, but Roach lost about a pint of blood, the captain said.

Roach played varsity halfback on the 1959 East Liverpool High School squad.

Simmons was in custody moments after the alleged cutting because Capt. Pyle and Patrolman Jack Stroble by coincidence were answering another call within sight of the club.

The two officers had gone to the First Federal Savings & Loan Association Building to check a report the burglar alarm was ringing. While they were awaiting the arrival of A. L. White, secretary-treasurer and manager of the association, they heard a commotion at the nearby club.

A man left the club and started to walk through Long Alley, adjoining the building. Two more men emerged and shouted to the officers: "Grab that man; he just cut a man inside!"

When the two officers started in pursuit of Simmons, he turned

2 Men Held For Slaying Of 2 Women

PLAINFIELD, N.J. (AP)—The partly-disrobed bodies of two socialites were found early today with the white Cadillac in which they had been abducted. One woman was strangled and the second was run over by the big car as she apparently tried to flee.

Several hours later police arrested two young Negroes and held them on suspicion of murder. Detective Daniel Hennessy said both denied any part in the crime but the officer said "They've both implicated themselves so far that they can't get out of it."

The dead were identified as Mrs. Elliot C. Ewell, 49, Westfield, the wife of the executive vice president of the Mack Truck Co. here, and Mrs. Robert Tyson, 50, Plainfield, whose husband is a New York stockbroker and also an executive with Mack.

The suspects are Lorelle Parks, 22, Plainfield, and Joseph Maxey, 23, Dunellen. Both are employes of Dom's Auto Sales in Plainfield.

Hennessy said the keys to the Cadillac as well as a wallet belonging to one of the woman were found in Parks' pocket. He said both men came here recently from the South.

Capt. Arthur Phillips tabbed the two as "definitely the men" sought in the double slaying.

Mrs. Ewell was found crumpled under the right front wheel of the car. Detectives said she must have been run down several times. Mrs. Tyson's body was on the floor in the back seat of the car. Articles of clothing were found in a field nearby.

Royal China Will Take Job Applications

Signup Of Workers Will Begin Monday In Palestine Plant

EAST PALESTINE — Applications for jobs at the W. S. George Pottery Co. Plant 1, now under a leasing arrangement with Royal China, Inc., of Sebring, will be received Monday, Miss Beatrice Miller, Royal president, announced.

Miss Miller, who said some $200,000 is being invested in equipment to start modernization of the George plant, expressed pleasure "at the co-operation I have received here."

She said the current cleanup by volunteers in the plant marked the "first time anyone has worked for me for nothing."

She said when she began the Royal firm in 1934 in the depths of the depression, "no one worked without money."

S. C. Henderson, Royal official, will take job applications and hold interviews Monday at the main floor office. Preference will be given former George workers and those who aided in the cleanup.

Miss Miller said she is planning installation in the near future of a circular cup spraying machine, nine printing machines for flatware and five for hollow ware, and by Sept. 1 will have a four-line automatic jigger in operation.

She said she plans to concen-

Delays Bothered Test Pilot

Walker Zooms X15 Jet At Record 3,370 M.P.H.

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Technical delays had begun to bother test pilot Joe Walker. Then finally, on his seventh flight in the X15, he flew the rocket ship to a winged record of 3,370 miles per hour.

"I almost had a phobia about it," Walker, 40, told his wife later.

Grace Walker said her husband was referring to long periods of waiting in the cockpit of the stub-by-winged craft, sometimes only to have the flight called off at the last moment.

But the test came off as planned Thursday. Walker's new mark is 296 m.p.h. faster than an X15 flight last April 21 by Air Force Maj. Bob White.

Only space men Yuri Gagarin and Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard Jr. have traveled at greater speeds.

Walker, veteran of fighter pilot service with the 15th Air Force in World War II, was dropped from a B52 mother ship at 45,000 feet Thursday. For 73 seconds he held the X15's throttle wide open.

His peak speed—nearly a mile a second—came during a steep climb at 90,000 feet. Then he switched off the powerful engine and coasted to 110,000 feet before nosing over and gliding back to base.

By comparison, Gagarin hit 17,000 m.p.h. during his orbit around the earth April 12 and Shepard sped 5,100 m.p.h. during his 115-mile rocket climb May 5.

Nott Appeals Job Removal

Civil Service Board Will Set Hearing

William E. Nott, ordered removed from his police department patrolman's post May 15 on grounds of "inefficiency," has filed an appeal with the Municipal Civil Service Commission.

The commission indicated today it expected to set a date for his hearing at its regular meeting Monday night at City Hall. Yesterday was the deadline for the officer to file for an appeal. Law fixes the deadline 10 days after the removal order was issued by Safety-Service Director Lee Copenhaver.

The commission has the right to "affirm, disaffirm or modify" the director's order after taking evidence from both sides in a court-like proceeding. In its last similar case, it modified the dismissal of a sewage plant worker into a payless 30-day suspension.

Nott's removal was ordered by the director on charges initiated by Chief Americo J. Radeschi. The chief charged that Nott had been off duty because of illness for 315 days in 52 months.

The chief's original order suspended the officer. After investigating the case, the director ordered the removal. After the commission's hearing, the next step up on the avenue of appeal is to Common Pleas Court at Lisbon.

Nott was appointed to the force in May 1956.

Chief A. J. Radeschi said today he expects Lt. Thomas A. Walker, acquitted May 16 on a larceny charge, will return to police department duty Wednesday as a 30-day leave of absence expires Tuesday. Lt. Walker was given a 30-day suspension in early April in connection with the disappearance of a TV set from the chief's office. Later the Grand Jury returned the larceny indictment and he was granted a 30-day leave pending the outcome of the case.

Judge Rescinds 10-Day Sentence

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today rescinded a 10-day County Jail term which he decreed Thursday for Robert Meyers, 19, of W. 6th St., on a charge of driving an auto without an operator's permit and instead imposed a fine of $50 and costs.

"I might have acted hastily yesterday in sentencing you to the County Jail," the judge told Meyers. "Your employer tells me you do not drive his truck. I must have misunderstood you yesterday. But you better get a license immediately."

Meyers was arrested in a private auto Thursday morning. Records showed it was his second citation for the same offense in eight months. Judge Chertoff said another factor in remitting the jail term was the fact Meyers might have lost his job during a 10-day confinement.

Judge Rescinds 10-Day Sentence

Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today rescinded a 10-day County Jail term which he decreed Thursday for Robert Meyers, 19, of W. 6th St., on a charge of driving an auto without an operator's permit and instead imposed a fine of $50 and costs.

"I might have acted hastily yesterday in sentencing you to the County Jail," the judge told Meyers. "Your employer tells me you do not drive his truck. I must have misunderstood you yesterday. But you better get a license immediately."

Meyers was arrested in a private auto Thursday morning. Records showed it was his second citation for the same offense in eight months. Judge Chertoff said another factor in remitting the jail term was the fact Meyers might have lost his job during a 10-day confinement.

Jerry Underwood, 19, of 1024 St. Clair Ave., a meatcutter at Quickie Meats, suffered a laceration of the back of the head when a clamp fell while he was leaning over at work.

Paul Spooner, 13, son of Mrs. Virginia Spooner, 846 Fairview St., suffered a possible fracture of the foot in a fall of almost six feet from a wall.

Kathy Morris, 9, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Morris of Dixonville, was treated for a laceration of a finger of the left hand suffered on a sickle.

Edward Nichols, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Nichols of Gaddes St., received a laceration of the forehead when struck by a hoe.

David Christen, 19, son of Mrs. Mary Ann Christen of Homestead Ave., LaCroft, suffered an injury to the right index finger while playing ball.

We Are Willing, Mr. President

This is a good time to remember that public opinion sampling has been standard procedure throughout John F. Kennedy's political career. He undoubtedly is relying on it in the presidency.

This means samplers will be testing the reaction of people to the special message on the state of the Union the President delivered to Congress Thursday.

He found the Union to be in a state that called for opening the public purse $1.5 billion wider now and even wider later. It previously was to have been $80.7 billion this year, $84.25 billion next year. He feels the need for positive action he spoke of so frequently in his campaign and translates this to mean billions more dollars of spending, much of it for getting to the moon and back before the Russians. He said it wouldn't cost anything extra when he was campaigning, but things have changed since then.

THE FIRST TEST of reaction to these and other points made in this unusual message on his state relative to the state of the Union will be in the Senate and House of Representatives. It remains to be seen whether senators and representatives will leap to this challenge, or whether they will be skeptical about its terms, which has been their prevailing attitude so far.

How the general public will react is more to the point. Here, the pollsters may run into something hard to appraise.

The people of America are willing to do anything their President tells them to do. If he says the country must go to the moon, it will go to the moon. If he wants it to go to Mars, Jupiter, or Saturn, it will get there.

There is only one catch.

The people of America must be convinced first of the necessity of doing what they are told they should do. Once convinced, they are insuperable. This has been proved over and over. It is an article of faith.

THE SECRET is leadership. Followership cannot be commanded here, as it can be in authoritarian states. When people, themselves, have sovereignty, they reserve the right to make their own way at their own speed. One of the jobs of a chief executive is to hustle them along, and this never has been easy. First, he must have their confidence.

We do not know what would be happening in this regard if President Kennedy had been short the few thousand votes his opponent, Richard M. Nixon, was short last November-December when they finished the long count in Chicago.

We suspect that Mr. Nixon would have trouble commanding followership for the same reason Mr. Kennedy is having trouble. But we have a hunch, on the other hand, that Mr. Nixon, having been around longer and being wiser in the ways of leadership, would not have made the mistake of asking for so much so often that no one could be sure what was needed.

HE IS CONFUSING leadership with stirring up his followers, which can end up in nothing but a net effect of chaos as the followers mill around, some on their way to the moon, some on their way to this, some on their way to that and nobody really making any progress in any worthwhile direction.

If White House pollsters run into an unduly large percentage of "no opinion" and "I'm not sure" responses to their queries this time, they shouldn't be surprised.

Some of us aren't sure whether we're headed for the moon, or whether we're on our way back after that special message to Congress which touched all the bases but put nothing on the scoreboard.

Why You Should Buy A Poppy

You will be asked to buy a poppy Saturday —and you should do so.

We wonder, however, how many recall the story behind the artificial flowers which have been symbolic of Memorial Day for so many years. Do you know—

That in the spring of 1919, amid complete devastation, the poppies bloomed in abundance on the battlefields of France, where so many of our men had fallen in battle, and that a replica of this poppy has become the memorial flower of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary?

That at the time the Legion Auxiliary adopted the poppy it pledged the profits from the sales 100 per cent to welfare relief for servicemen and women and their families, thus fulfilling the true meaning of the poppy—an emblem of faith, faith which is being kept with all who died, through service to the living?

That the memorial poppies are made of red crepe paper, by hand, by disabled veterants in hospitals and poppy work rooms in 40 states, and that the workers receive pay for each poppy made, the materials being furnished free by the Department in the state in which the hospital is located?

That every penny of the proceeds from the sale of more than 25,000,000 poppies made annually under the guidance of the American Legion Auxiliary is devoted to rehabilitation work by both the Legion and Auxiliary, which includes aid to the needy veterans and their families.

Need there be more reasons for buying a poppy? Let's make this the most gratifying Poppy Day yet in East Liverpool and other district communities Saturday.

Story With A Built-In Moral

Basketball bribery apparently will continue to break out like pink-eye in a college dormitory. And like pink-eye there will be no end until the source of the infection has been eliminated.

Every commentator who has followed the cases of college basketball players who accepted bribes to control the scores of games or failed to report bribes that were offered can agree on the source of the infection.

It is the fact that many outstanding basketball players who bring renown to colleges that otherwise would be as obscure in basketball as they are in all other respects were hired to perform their services.

Whatever loyalty they may feel for the school is accidental — something a little less, perhaps, than the loyalty a casual employe feels for his employer.

This circumstance tempts would-be fixers of basketball games to try their hand at buying something that already has been through one transaction. It tempts would-be victims of fixers to take what they can get. Players do not "throw" the game in most instances; they merely control the point spread — the difference between the winner's score and the loser's score.

There are rumors that bribery also may have been attempted in college football. Again the weak chink in the armor of loyalty would be players whose services had been bought and paid for — athletes who had classified themselves as being for hire.

If they can be hired by one, perhaps they can be hired by another. That is the supposition on which athletic bribery is based. Bribery stories all have the same built-in moral:

When men sell their services to the highest bidders, let the lowest bidders beware.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Photo finish and late scratch have now entered operations of the U.S. Supreme Court. Two judges didn't get to the post, and the important decision in duPont-G.M. case was caried by one vote. (It was so close a nylon stocking could have separated justices.)

DuPont put money into G.M. when motor company was not doing too well 40 years ago. Decision it was wrong sets a new record for slow motion, hidden ball trick and kick in the pants.

DuPont was taking chance and could have lost plenty. But investment worked out well, which can mean severe punishment these days. Company has been in courts so often and so long over this one case that it has needed four-story infirmary to treat its officials for chronic harrassment.

G.M. shares totaling 63 million must be sold by duPont. Shareholders in all walks of American life are so dizzy they don't know whether to consult brokers, astrologists, tea-leaf readers or survival-kit makers for advice.

Question recommended for investors is not, "How did the market do today?" but "What did the Court do?" Anybody discussing stock with a broker had better include these queries:

1. Has the company always met its dividend and has it ever met Attorney General?

2. Is this a "growth stock" or just a matter of "growth litigation"?

3. Is the security good for a quick turnover, a long pull, a delayed pass or a 4-3 decision?

4. Is it a stock in a minor corporation not very well run or a Blue Chip stock in corporation always in danger because it is highly successful, splendidly run and a great help to American economy?

5. I know the company did well in business, but how did it perform in the courts?

6. Is this a good stock for a widow, or only if she marries into a top law firm?

Justice Frankfurter, dissenting in the duPont case, said court was entering Alice in Wonderland area. Maybe he meant Malice in Bumperland.

GOVERNOR OF ALABAMA is suffering from "Bobby" socks.

Two retired army generals are teaching dentistry at Ohio State. ("The Yanks are coming.")

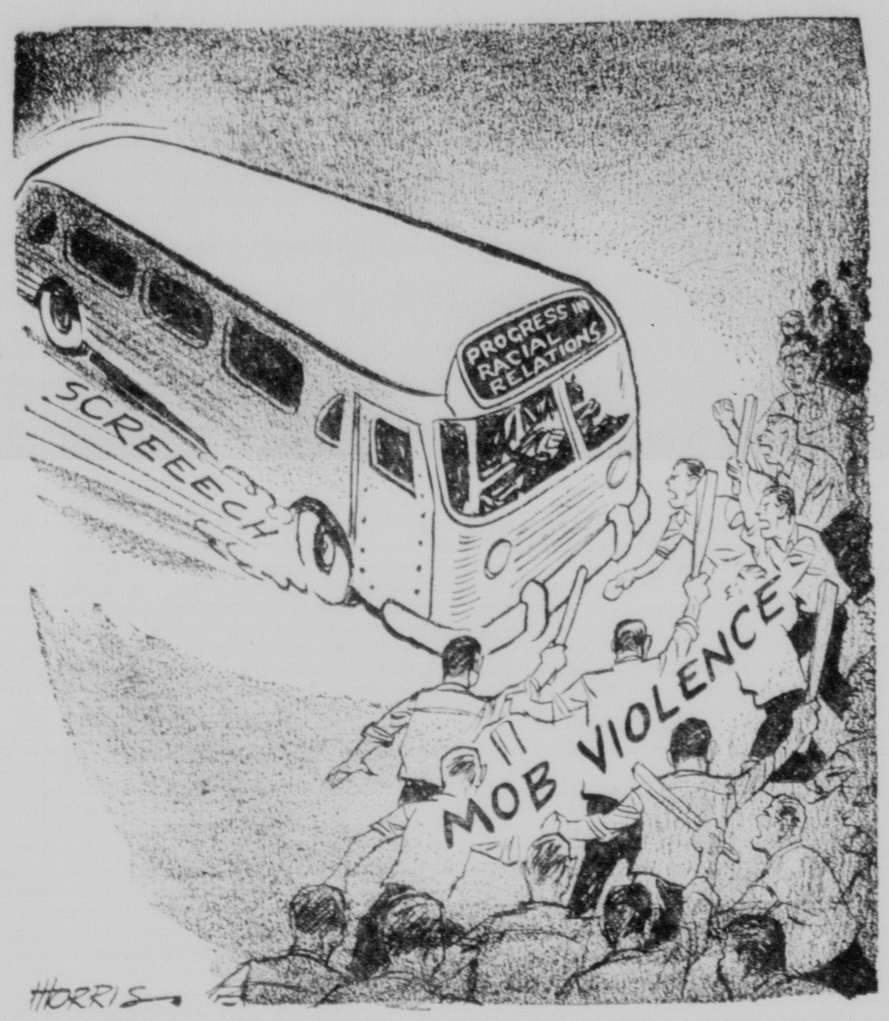
J. S. Seidman, an "angel" in Broadway show productions, tells Congress that crackdown on expense accounts for tax deductions would be good, not bad, for theater. Public is being kept out of theaters by high-priced seats gobbled by "tax deducting big spenders," he says. Right or wrong, it is fact that countless folks who would flock to shows if they could afford it are now "long lost customers."

A dozen women are in training as American astronauts. Enter the "lagmournaut" and "moondoll."

Nothing is hurting U.S. in world prestige as much as scene in Alabama. Regardless of issues, Soviet is working overtime distributing the pictures.

Man is comparatively one of the slowest-moving of all living creatures, his greatest attained speed being less than 22 miles an hour. The cheetah is the speed king of the animal kingdom, being credited with a top speed of almost 80 miles an hour.

Unscheduled Stop!



Castro Curbs Cuban Negro Groups

By Victor Riesel

Fidel Castro raised his premium on human freedom from $2 million to some $40 million over the May 20th weekend. He asked for more than tractors. In secret long-distance negotiations the heady Cuban head of state demanded millions of dollars worth of spare parts —and a five-year guarantee on every mountain-moving machine delivered to him by the Walter Reuther committee.

Victor Riesel

This would have meant a pledge to repair and even to replace the 500 tractors. Since Castro has learned well from the Communist political cadres on the island, this would have meant, too, that he would keep some of the 1,214 prisoners as hostages.

Castro's moves have been aimed at making an enormous profit out of what began as a U.S. State Department "cover" operation. For that's what the tractors-for-prisoners campaign is—an unofficial government maneuver.

Here, according to a Washington source which has never been inaccurate, is the inside story of Operation Tractors:

After Castro spat out his "worms" speech—in which he threatened to use his 1200 prisoners as slave labor—high State Department officials believed they could save these men and outmaneuver Castro on a vast politico-propaganda battlesite, Latin-America.

OF COURSE, the government could not ransom the prisoners. But a private "front" committee could. During these strategy discussions last week it was decided that a "cover" of American labor in a bi-partisan committee with high standing in Latin America would be the perfect facade.

Then, according to this column's source, Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles talked to a very close friend of his—Victor Reuther, brother of Walter.

Bowles and Victor converse frequently. From Victor, who directs the United Auto Workers Washington headquarters and who is the UAW's International Affairs specialist, the ball was passed to Walter. He took it fast.

Mrs. Roosevelt, an old, old friend, was to him a logical name. He telephoned her. Then on the forenoon of Friday, May 19, he talked to another old friend—Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

This too was a logical choice for Reuther. He had known Dr. Eisenhower for some 15 years—ever since the former president's brother had helped arbitrate a long auto strike.

Dr. Eisenhower also is widely known in Central and South America. Had he not visited 17 Latin American republics since 1953 as a special ambassador from the former president? Thus there were a labor cover and the names of two former presidents linked to the committee.

AFTER THE FRIDAY telephone conversations, the committee cabled Castro saying they'd meet him in New York for what I presume would have been bargaining talks. Then came news of the 10 prisoners arriving as a dramatic negotiating committee.

Reuther's group dispatched a second cable saying, in effect, we presume that the 10 have the authority to talk for Cuba. At no time was there any direct answer from the still fulminating Fidel.

The Reuther committee busied itself with liaison talks with several U.S. officials on the highest echelons. Obviously the 10 prisoners could not agree to anything including acceptance of money or title to available tractors.

Who would be the intermediary? The Red Cross? CARE? etc.? Reuther talked to several of his own colleagues.

THERE WAS TALK of urging the UAW's membership to contribute half-a-day's pay. Some of the union's high command flew into Detroit on Monday to set up machinery for the big push.

This was to be built around the union's membership inside the Caterpillar Tractor Co. and International Harvester plants. Thus, for the most part, this would be a drive by American workers to save 1,200 Cuban idealists.

Then came word that Castro did not want the little plowing machines. He was asking for the $34,000 to $40,000 mountain movers used to build missile bases, airports and other vast military installations.

Obviously Castro's intent was supermilitary—for he already had a good many such tractors. These were "nationalized" some time ago when Castro took over American tractor firms. In Havana alone he had picked up some 70 big earth pushers.

Then came two more elusive bargaining moves: Castro ordered us not to refer to this as "exchange" but rather as war "indemnity." And he suggested he might be wanting to withdraw the tractor offer entirely and demand men instead of machines.

The Tractors For Freedom Committee still was faced with raising more than a score of millions of dollars—far more than the $15 million all of America was able to pile up for the herculean Hungarian refugee salvation some five years ago.

Very clever people, those Soviet cadres who write Castro's lines.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Thanks for the clipping about the Congo. The reason I wanted to know what was happening there was because it had bearing on what was happening to my old friend from Sweden, Dag Hammarskjoid.

I speak of him as an old friend because that is the way I feel. But I think he and I would hit it off fine. He has the quality I admire most in a man.

He is willing to let time be his ally.

He has patience.

He cannot guarantee that the Russians won't blast him out of his job and can do no more than hope that his other employers in the United Nations will stick by him, but he is wise enough to wait for things to work themselves out.

It wasn't easy to wait in the Congo. Everybody had a solution. There were more ideas for fixing up things in the Congo than for curing a case of poison ivy after a midsummer picnic.

Old Dag kept flying back and forth and squirming around on the hot seat. His critics were shooting him with poisoned arrows and puting itching powder in his shorts. They were throwing cold water on him when they weren't toasting the soles of his feet with lighted cigarettes.

But the little man refused to break and run. He kept his temper and held his tongue. He didn't boast that he knew what he was doing, but he acted as if he thought he knew what he was doing, and that was better yet.

Maybe he figured that the editorial writers, politicians and living room experts would tire of the Congo and turn their attention elsewhere. Maybe he figured the Congolese would get tired of fighting one another and settle down. Truth is that most of the Congolese, like most Laotians, Koreans and you name 'em, never were involved in the excitement anyway.

So things settled down and good old Dag, the patient man, made his point. As your clipping said, he thinks the danger of civil war in the Congo has been reduced. The decision-making people down there now are more interested in keeping things quiet than in stirring them up.

I bring this up as a reminder that not everything we break into a sweat about because someone squeals it is dreadfully important is worth breaking into a sweat about.

Most of these things will wear themselves out if we will give them the benefit of a little patience, the same as acne in adolescents will cure itself. It has irked you because your Aunt Effie and I remain indifferent to so many things you tell us are important, but that is the way we feel about them—indifferent.

We sincerely hope they turn out all right. We believe there is a good chance they will turn out all right if nature is allowed to take its course. But if they turn out otherwise there's nothing we can do about it, because it would be presumptuous of us to think we could have more influence than nature. Is that indifference?

Things are quieter in the Congo. They will be quieter in Laos soon. I am looking forward with confidence to the disappearance of a lot of things from the news. After all, I waited out Jayne Mansfield and that singer who shimmied, that what's his name who was with the U.S. Army in Germany. Patience did it.

With the help of your aunt, who is a past master, I have learned the secret of patience. Most things we're afraid of never happen. Time is the best healer and the most skillful negotiator.

A Price On Castro?

By David Lawrence

Ransom Move Strengthen's Fidel's Position

"A million dollars for Fidel Castro, dead or alive—but preferably alive."

This is the latest suggestion —made by a reader in answer to those who want to raise $15 million to pay off Castro and liberate the 1,200 Cubans taken prisoner in the recent invasion attempt.

David Lawrence

The reason for wanting to form a committee to induce the Cuban people to capture Castro and send him to some foreign country is so he may be tried for international crimes just as Adolf Eichmann is being tried in Israel today.

The capture of Eichmann was accomplished privately within a foreign country where he had taken refuge but in the case of Castro, who is still in his own country, it would be natural for citizens there to seize him and bring him to justice in Cuban courts for he is guilty of the mass execution of innocent persons on hearsay evidence and without benefit of a fair trial. There must be many persons inside Cuba who would wish to see Castro punished.

The fact that a committee of prominent American citizens is ready to do business with Castro in order to liberate some of the prisoners he holds is provoking differences of opinion in Washington. While it is argued that the committee is solely interested in saving human lives—even raising what is admittedly a ransom—there are many others who think that this would be a disgraceful concession to Castro's inhumanity.

Indeed, the Cuban dictator now says he wants the money as an "indemnity" from the United States because of the recent "invasion."

Whatever interpretation he may put on it, there are many Americans who will donate money to save lives. The instinct is commendable but the maneuver cannot but place Castro in a position of strength. It will mean that his demand for what he calls "indemnity" will be proclaimed throughout the world as having been met.

Also, it will give the people of Cuba the impression that the American people are afraid of Castro and are ready to bow to his demands and those of his Communist associates who doubtless thought up the ransom scheme.

FAILURE of the "invasion" was a psychological blow to the hopes of those who have sought to liberate Cuba. The United States is blamed for not following through with adequate air support at the critical moment. The effect throughout Latin America has been one of disappointment with the United States.

While outwardly the usual fears are expressed that intervention in Cuba would seem to be a precedent for similar intervention when dictators arise in other Latin-American situations, many thoughtful persons of prominence in countries south of us are saying privately they wish the United States had followed through on the recent expedition started by the Cuban exiles.

The widespread publicity given the American committee which has just started out to raise $15 million to buy tractors for the exchange of the Cuban prisoners is bound to hurt the cause of liberation inside Cuba for it pictures the American people as interested in saving 1,200 Cuban prisoners but not so much concerned about the entire Cuban nation which has been taken prisoner by Castro and his Communist partners.

THERE IS LITTLE HOPE, incidentally, that the exchange of tractors for the prisoners will go through. It isn't easy to raise $15 million for any rescue mission outside the United States and rarely has anything approaching the sum ever been collected even for a famine or earthquake disaster.

Castro nevertheless will make considerable propaganda out of the incident and there is no assurance that he will accede to the terms of the American committee that, as the tractors are delivered, there will be exchanged at the same time certain specified prisoners so as to insure that the agreement will be kept by Castro.

It is unfortunate that Walter Reuther and members of his committee have promised to go to Cuba themselves to negotiate an agreement with Castro. The Cuban dictator doubtless will use the occasion to tell the Cuban people that prominent Americans are coming to Cuba on bended knee to recognize his right to threaten or actually to execute prisoners of war.

Maybe this is a problem, after all, for the United Nations, which manages to send envoys to uncivilized Congo and knows something at least about how to deal with bandits and murderers.

Clean-Hands Foreign Aid

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

This country is building up the realization that clean-hands foreign aid must reach the masses in backward countries to give them a reason for preferring the West to communism.

This was the message Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson returned with Wednesday from a 15-day tour through seven countries in Red-threatened areas. It was a theme made to order for President Kennedy's foreign aid broadcast today.

Johnson said: "Given something for which to fight, the people of Asia will man the ramparts of freedom and they will man them with valor. Butt he people do not fight in steaming jungles to preserve hunger and squalor and oppression."

President Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles talked of helping the masses around the world with foreign aid.

But the need to do so takes on new meaning as Russia and Red China grow stronger and increase their pressure on the backward countries, particularly in Southeast Asia.

This country recently realized with a shock—in Laos—that just dumping aid, particularly if it is mostly military aid, is not enough.

There the American government, supporting a right-wing regime, gave mostly military aid. The Communists, with promises of a better life, began to sweep the country.

This writer believes that if the American government made public all the information on Laos it would show that there were hundreds perhaps thousands of desertions from the American-backed regime to the Communists.

This is exactly what happened in Indochina where the French, who wound up losing half the country to communism, refused to give the Vietnamese their freedom or put in reforms for their benefit.

Nor is it enough to dump foreign aid of the economic kind into a backward country without some assured program for using it to the benefit of the masses.

For example: In South Korea a military coup recently overthrew the elected regime which the United States not only backed but helped. The American government didn't like the military take-over alittle.

But the South Korean military leaders said the overthrow was necessary in order to end "corruption," among other things.

One veteran Associated Press reporter from the Orient told this reporter of what happened to some American aid:

"Nitrates are a good example. The farmers badly needed them. The United States shipped them over at fairly low costs. But when they got there they passed through a number of people, each of whom made some money on them.

"By the time they reached the farmers, for whom they were meant in the first place, they couldn't afford the high price."

Nor is foreign aid which goes to the enrichment of a few powerful families going to persuade the masses who watch the rich get richer and the poor get poorer that turning to the West is better than communism.

Mixed up in all this is a critical question for the Kennedy administration: Is it going to support state-owned projects which, in the backward areas, may give the masses a sense of participation and ownership? If so, this is socialism.

Private enterprise, particularly as practiced by big American corporations, may not be enough if the masses feel they are being used to make Americans richer without any direct consideration for them.

If Kennedy pitches for help to government-owned projects, almost surely he won't call it socialism, which is a dirty word in Congress, although there socialism is practiced every year in votes for government-supported or subsidized programs for Americans.

We Are Willing, Mr. President

This is a good time to remember that public opinion sampling has been standard procedure throughout John F. Kennedy's political career. He undoubtedly is relying on it in the presidency.

This means samplers will be testing the reaction of people to the special message on the state of the Union the President delivered to Congress Thursday.

He found the Union to be in a state that called for opening the public purse $1.5 billion wider now and even wider later. It previously was to have been $80.7 billion this year, $84.25 billion next year. He feels the need for positive action he spoke of so frequently in his campaign and translates this to mean billions more dollars of spending, much of it for getting to the moon and back before the Russians. He said it wouldn't cost anything extra when he was campaigning, but things have changed since then.

THE FIRST TEST of reaction to these and other points made in this unusual message on his state relative to the state of the Union will be in the Senate and House of Representatives. It remains to be seen whether senators and representatives will leap to this challenge, or whether they will be skeptical about its terms, which has been their prevailing attitude so far.

How the general public will react is more to the point. Here, the pollsters may run into something hard to appraise.

The people of America are willing to do anything their President tells them to do. If he says the country must go to the moon, it will go to the moon. If he wants it to go to Mars, Jupiter, or Saturn, it will get there.

There is only one catch.

The people of America must be convinced first of the necessity of doing what they are told they should do. Once convinced, they are insuperable. This has been proved over and over. It is an article of faith.

THE SECRET is leadership. Followership cannot be commanded here, as it can be in authoritarian states. When people, themselves, have sovereignty, they reserve the right to make their own way at their own speed. One of the jobs of a chief executive is to hustle them along, and this never has been easy. First, he must have their confidence.

We do not know what would be happening in this regard if President Kennedy had been short the few thousand votes his opponent, Richard M. Nixon, was short last November-December when they finished the long count in Chicago.

We suspect that Mr. Nixon would have trouble commanding followership for the same reason Mr. Kennedy is having trouble. But we have a hunch, on the other hand, that Mr. Nixon, having been around longer and being wiser in the ways of leadership, would not have made the mistake of asking for so much so often that no one could be sure what was needed.

HE IS CONFUSING leadership with stirring up his followers, which can end up in nothing but a net effect of chaos as the followers mill around, some on their way to the moon, some on their way to this, some on their way to that and nobody really making any progress in any worthwhile direction.

If White House pollsters run into an unduly large percentage of "no opinion" and "I'm not sure" responses to their queries this time, they shouldn't be surprised.

Some of us aren't sure whether we're headed for the moon, or whether we're on our way back after that special message to Congress which touched all the bases but put nothing on the scoreboard.

Why You Should Buy A Poppy

You will be asked to buy a poppy Saturday —and you should do so.

We wonder, however, how many recall the story behind the artificial flowers which have been symbolic of Memorial Day for so many years. Do you know—

That in the spring of 1919, amid complete devastation, the poppies bloomed in abundance on the battlefields of France, where so many of our men had fallen in battle, and that a replica of this poppy has become the memorial flower of the American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary?

That at the time the Legion Auxiliary adopted the poppy it pledged the profits from the sales 100 per cent to welfare relief for servicemen and women and their families, thus fulfilling the true meaning of the poppy—an emblem of faith, faith which is being kept with all who died, through service to the living?

That the memorial poppies are made of red crepe paper, by hand, by disabled veterants in hospitals and poppy work rooms in 40 states, and that the workers receive pay for each poppy made, the materials being furnished free by the Department in the state in which the hospital is located?

That every penny of the proceeds from the sale of more than 25,000,000 poppies made annually under the guidance of the American Legion Auxiliary is devoted to rehabilitation work by both the Legion and Auxiliary, which includes aid to the needy veterans and their families.

Need there be more reasons for buying a poppy? Let's make this the most gratifying Poppy Day yet in East Liverpool and other district communities Saturday.

Story With A Built-In Moral

Basketball bribery apparently will continue to break out like pink-eye in a college dormitory. And like pink-eye there will be no end until the source of the infection has been eliminated.

Every commentator who has followed the cases of college basketball players who accepted bribes to control the scores of games or failed to report bribes that were offered can agree on the source of the infection.

It is the fact that many outstanding basketball players who bring renown to colleges that otherwise would be as obscure in basketball as they are in all other respects were hired to perform their services.

Whatever loyalty they may feel for the school is accidental — something a little less, perhaps, than the loyalty a casual employe feels for his employer.

This circumstance tempts would-be fixers of basketball games to try their hand at buying something that already has been through one transaction. It tempts would-be victims of fixers to take what they can get. Players do not "throw" the game in most instances; they merely control the point spread — the difference between the winner's score and the loser's score.

There are rumors that bribery also may have been attempted in college football. Again the weak chink in the armor of loyalty would be players whose services had been bought and paid for — athletes who had classified themselves as being for hire.

If they can be hired by one, perhaps they can be hired by another. That is the supposition on which athletic bribery is based. Bribery stories all have the same built-in moral:

When men sell their services to the highest bidders, let the lowest bidders beware.

The Once Over

By H. I. Phillips

Photo finish and late scratch have now entered operations of the U.S. Supreme Court. Two judges didn't get to the post, and the important decision in duPont-G.M. case was carried by one vote. (It was so close a nylon stocking could have separated justices.)

DuPont put money into G.M. when motor company was not doing too well 40 years ago. Decision it was wrong sets a new record for slow motion, hidden ball trick and kick in the pants.

DuPont was taking chance and could have lost plenty. But investment worked out well, which can mean severe punishment these days. Company has been in courts so often and so long over this one case that it has needed four-story infirmary to treat its officials for chronic harrassment.

G.M. shares totaling 63 million must be sold by duPont. Shareholders in all walks of American life are so dizzy they don't know whether to consult brokers, astrologists, tea-leaf readers or survival-kit makers for advice.

Question recommended for investors is not, "How did the market do today?" but "What did the Court do?" Anybody discussing stock with a broker had better include these queries:

1. Has the company always met its dividend and has it ever met Attorney General?

2. Is this a "growth stock" or just a matter of "growth litigation"?

3. Is the security good for a quick turnover, a long pull, a delayed pass or a 4-3 decision?

4. Is it a stock in a minor corporation not very well run or a Blue Chip stock in corporation always in danger because it is highly successful, splendidly run and a great help to American economy?

5. I know the company did well in business, but how did it perform in the courts?

6. Is this a good stock for a widow, or only if she marries into a top law firm?

Justice Frankfurter, dissenting in the duPont case, said court was entering Alice in Wonderland area. Maybe he meant Malice in Bumperland.

Right or wrong, it is fact that countless folks who would flock to shows if they could afford it are now "long lost customers."

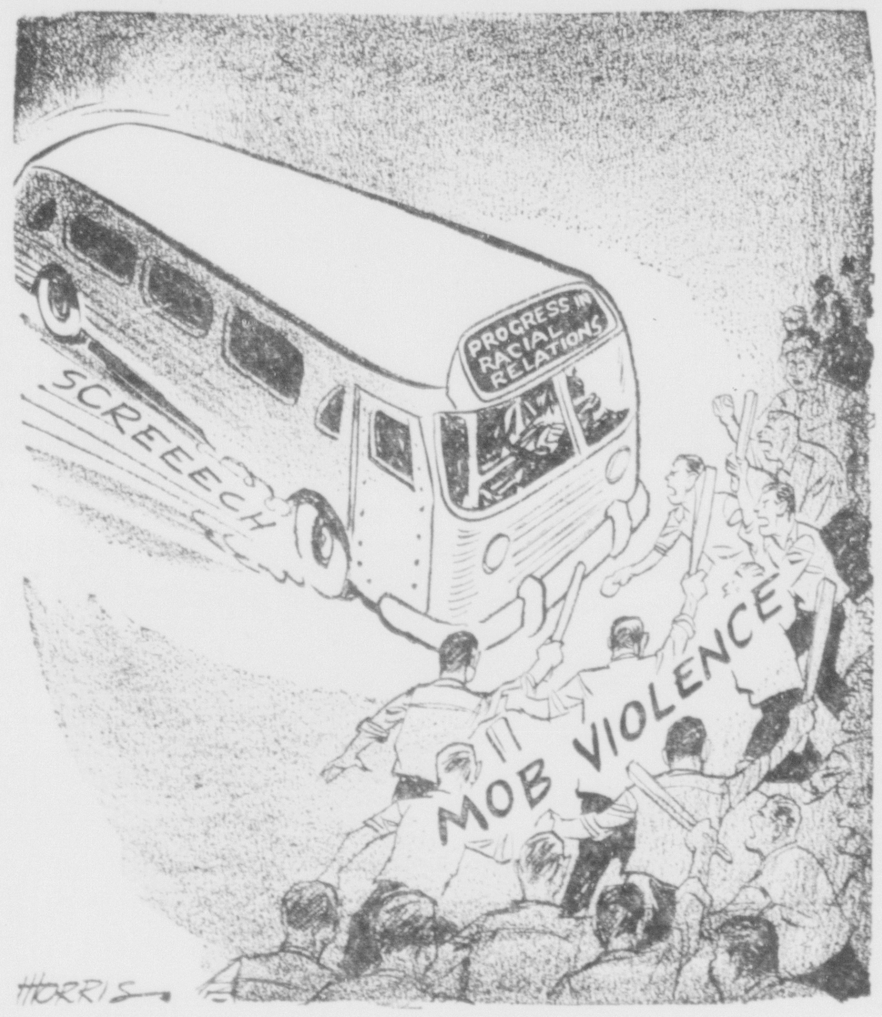
Unscheduled Stop!



Castro Curbs Cuban Negro Groups

By Victor Riesel

Fidel Castro raised his premium on human freedom from $2 million to some $40 million over the May 20th weekend. He asked for more than tractors. In secret long-distance negotiations the heady Cuban head of state demanded millions of dollars worth of spare parts —and a five-year guarantee on every mountain-moving machine delivered to him by the Walter Reuther committee.

Victor Riesel

This would have meant a pledge to repair and even to replace the 500 tractors. Since Castro has learned well from the Communist political cadres on the island, this would have meant, too, that he would keep some of the 1,214 prisoners as hostages.

Castro's moves have been aimed at making an enormous profit out of what began as a U.S. State Department "cover" operation. For that's what the tractors-for-prisoners campaign is—an unofficial government maneuver.

Here, according to a Washington source which has never been inaccurate, is the inside story of Operation Tractors:

After Castro spat out his "worms" speech—in which he threatened to use his 1200 prisoners as slave labor—high State Department officials believed they could save these men and outmaneuver Castro on a vast politico-propaganda battlesite, Latin-America.

OF COURSE, the government could not ransom the prisoners. But a private "front" committee could. During these strategy discussions last week it was decided that a "cover" of American labor in a bi-partisan committee with high standing in Latin America would be the perfect facade.

Then, according to this column's source, Under Secretary of State Chester Bowles talked to a very close friend of his—Victor Reuther, brother of Walter.

Bowles and Victor converse frequently. From Victor, who directs the United Auto Workers Washington headquarters and who is the UAW's International Affairs specialist, the ball was passed to Walter. He took it fast.

Mrs. Roosevelt, an old, old friend, was to him a logical name. He telephoned her. Then on the forenoon of Friday, May 19, he talked to another old friend—Dr. Milton Eisenhower.

This too was a logical choice for Reuther. He had known Dr. Eisenhower for some 15 years—ever since the former president's brother had helped arbitrate a long auto strike.

Dr. Eisenhower also is widely known in Central and South America. Had he not visited 17 Latin American republics since 1953 as a special ambassador from the former president? Thus there were a labor cover and the names of two former presidents linked to the committee.

AFTER THE FRIDAY telephone conversations, the committee cabled Castro saying they'd meet him in New York for what I presume would have been bargaining talks. Then came news of the 10 prisoners arriving as a dramatic negotiating committee.

Reuther's group dispatched a second cable saying, in effect, we presume that the 10 have the authority to talk for Cuba. At no time was there any direct answer from the still fulminating Fidel.

The Reuther committee busied itself with liaison talks with several U.S. officials on the highest echelons. Obviously the 10 prisoners could not agree to anything including acceptance of money or title to available tractors.

Who would be the intermediary? The Red Cross? CARE? etc.? Reuther talked to several of his own colleagues.

THERE WAS TALK of urging the UAW's membership to contribute half-a-day's pay. Some of the union's high command flew into Detroit on Monday to set up machinery for the big push.

This was to be built around the union's membership inside the Caterpillar Tractor Co. and International Harvester plants. Thus, for the most part, this would be a drive by American workers to save 1,200 Cuban idealists.

Then came word that Castro did not want the little plowing machines. He was asking for the $34,000 to $40,000 mountain movers used to build missile bases, airports and other vast military installations.

Obviously Castro's intent was supermilitary—for he already had a good many such tractors. These were "nationalized" some time ago when Castro took over American tractor firms. In Havana alone he had picked up some 70 big earth pushers.

Then came two more elusive bargaining moves: Castro ordered us not to refer to this as "exchange" but rather as war "indemnity." And he suggested he might be wanting to withdraw the tractor offer entirely and demand men instead of machines.

The Tractors For Freedom Committee still was faced with raising more than a score of millions of dollars—far more than the $15 million all of America was able to pile up for the herculean Hungarian refugee salvation some five years ago.

Very clever people, those Soviet cadres who write Castro's lines.

Cotton Corners

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: Thanks for the clipping about the Congo. The reason I wanted to know what was happening there was because it had bearing on what was happening to my old friend from Sweden, Dag Hammarskjoid.

I speak of him as an old friend because that is the way I feel. But I think he and I would hit it off fine. He has the quality I admire most in a man.

He is willing to let time be his ally.

He has patience.

He cannot guarantee that the Russians won't blast him out of his job and can do no more than hope that his other employers in the United Nations will stick by him, but he is wise enough to wait for things to work themselves out.

It wasn't easy to wait in the Congo. Everybody had a solution. There were more ideas for fixing up things in the Congo than for curing a case of poison ivy after a midsummer picnic.

Old Dag kept flying back and forth and squirming around on the hot seat. His critics were shooting him with poisoned arrows and putting itching powder in his shorts. They were throwing cold water on him when they weren't toasting the soles of his feet with lighted cigarettes.

But the little man refused to break and run. He kept his temper and held his tongue. He didn't boast that he knew what he was doing, but he acted as if he thought he knew what he was doing, and that was better yet.

Maybe he figured that the editorial writers, politicians and living room experts would tire of the Congo and turn their attention elsewhere. Maybe he figured the Congolese would get tired of fighting one another and settle down. Truth is that most of the Congolese, like most Laotians, Koreans and you name 'em, never were involved in the excitement anyway.

So things settled down and good old Dag, the patient man, made his point. As your clipping said, he thinks the danger of civil war in the Congo has been reduced. The decision-making people down there now are more interested in keeping things quiet than in stirring them up.

I bring this up as a reminder that not everything we break into a sweat about because someone squeals it is dreadfully important is worth breaking into a sweat about.

Most of these things will wear themselves out if we will give them the benefit of a little patience, the same as acne in adolescents will cure itself. It has irked you because your Aunt Effie and I remain indifferent to so many things you tell us are important, but that is the way we feel about them—indifferent.

We sincerely hope they turn out all right. We believe there is a good chance they will turn out all right if nature is allowed to take its course. But if they turn out otherwise there's nothing we can do about it, because it would be presumptuous of us to think we could have more influence than nature. Is that indifference?

Things are quieter in the Congo. They will be quieter in Laos soon. I am looking forward with confidence to the disappearance of a lot of things from the news. After all, I waited out Jayne Mansfield and that singer who shimmied, that what's his name who was with the U.S. Army in Germany. Patience did it.

With the help of your aunt, who is a past master, I have learned the secret of patience. Most things we're afraid of never happen. Time is the best healer and the most skillful negotiator.

Native Of Britain Relates First U.S. 'Impressions'

Near-tasteless food, policemen with guns, loud voices, huge automobiles — these were some of the "first impressions" of F. Lewis Alder of Chester on his arrival from Great Britain in 1957.

Alder, a co-ordinator official of the National Church Supply Co., spoke before the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel concerning his attitudes toward the United States.

A British soap manufacturer for many years, Alder said his decision to come to the United States resulted in the discovery that this is the most difficult nation in the world to enter. He described the paper work, examinations, interviews and fingerprinting — shocking to Englishmen accustomed to such procedures only for criminals.

He said he and his wife were surprised to see policemen carrying pistols — English officers are unarmed — to ride in such large cars — British autos are small — and to eat such bland food.

He said the first meals in Amercia gave the impression that the food was "flavored blotting paper." American bread is soft and sweet compared to British, and the iced drinks here cause Englishmen to be chilled to the bone, he said.

Alder smilingly emphasized he was not criticising America, just giving his friendly impressions. Now a resident of this country, he said he is just as irritated at Englishmen who criticize the United States as he is at Americans who criticize Britain without really understanding them.

He said he has become accustomed to American ways, to the food and customs. Alder said he was first wary of the American tendency toward food experimentation — "I had never heard of pineapple and ham."

Although American voices occasionally seemed to him slightly jarring at first, compared to milder English speech, he now cannot differentiate in most cases, he said.

He also spoke on the British medical care service, saying it works "very well for most people." He said visiting Americans and others take advantage of the service to get glasses and other care, and some Europeans go to Britain for major operations under the plan.

Alder said American highways, so wide and long compared to winding, ancient British roads, were a marvel to him, and he believes America has the best travel accommodations in the world, with restaurants and sleeping facilities everywhere.

He also spoke on economic conditions in Britain, pointing out wages are in many cases only half of those paid here. Although there is some unemployment — "as there is anywhere" — said there are more jobs in England than people.

He said the most impressive sight in this nation is autumn, with its flaming "fantastic" colors in the woodlands. "You are probably accustomed to it, but Europeans find it remarkable," he concluded.

Alder was introduced by Eugene Hall, program chairman.

Ed Maloney announced plans are complete for a club-sponsored rummage sale June 5-10 at the former Zange & Bence building at E. 4th St. and Washington St.

The club's family picnic will be June 27.

Pope Gregory's Body Returned To Rome

ROME (AP)—The body of St. Gregory VII, one of the great popes of the Roman Catholic Church, was brought back to Rome Thursday night after a nine-century absence.

Pope Gregory, who decreed celibacy for priests and vested the power of electing popes in the college of cardinals, died at the age of 60, in 1085, at Salerno, south of Naples. His body remained there.

The body will be placed in a new church to be built in Rome this year.

Native Of Britain Relates First U.S. 'Impressions'

Near-tasteless food, policemen with guns, loud voices, huge automobiles — these were some of the "first impressions" of F. Lewis Alder of Chester on his arrival from Great Britain in 1957.

Alder, a co-ordinator official of the National Church Supply Co., spoke before the Kiwanis Club Tuesday at the Travelers Hotel concerning his attitudes toward the United States.

Traffic Light Struck By Rig

A traffic light hanging over the street at Dresden Ave. and E. 9th St. was damaged Thursday at 3:52 p. m. when struck by the top of a big tractor-trailer rig, police reported.

The signal was damaged by a rig driven by Walter Kraft, 38, of Eden, N. Y., and owned by John Schutt Jr., Inc., of Buffalo, officers reported. Damage was slight and the signal remained in operation, officers said.

Schutt's vehicle was over the height limit prescribe in state law, but had a permit issued by the State Highway Department, police said.

The rig was delivering a big metal part from the Wheeling Steel Corp. to a Canadian concern. It was the first of a series of 20 or more similar shipments that will go through East Liverpool, officers were told. The Dresden Ave. light is 13½ to 14 feet above the pavement, high enough to clear any vehicle of legal height.

Kraft made arrangements for the damage to be reported to his company's insurance firm, officers said.

Meanwhile, Charles D. Campbell, 22, of 684 Lincoln Ave. told police the right door of his car was scraped in another mishap Thursday at 11:15 p. m. on E. 5th St.

Campbell told police he had halted his auto and a passenger opened the door, which then was scraped by a passing car, causing damage estimated at $20. He did not report the other driver's name.

WASHINGTON COURT HOUSE, Ohio (AP) — Gail Ann Wieland, 3, is the first traffic fatality in Washington Court House since October 1948. The little girl died Thursday shortly after she ran into the side of a car in front of her home.

Speaker For Midland Group

Jackie Robinson Is NAACP Guest

Jackie Robinson spoke on civil rights and "the apathy of the Negro in today's world" at the second annual banquet of the Midland branch of the NAACP Thursday evening in Beaver Falls.

He said "Negroes must unite" to eliminate their problems and must fight for equal opportunity. Some 300 attend the banquet and dance in the ballroom of the Brodhead Hotel.

Robinson's main theme was that man should be judged on his ability and not by the color of his skin.

One of the main problems for the Negro are voting rights, he asserted, but added the Negroes should not vote for someone who has done something for them in the past but should consider the individual, hear his views and then vote.

In a press conference preceding the dinner, Robinson declared, "The time for turning the other cheek is past" in answering a question on the Montgomery riots.

"We must fight back now," he asserted, pointing out four-fifths of the world's population is colored. The Montgomery situation should awaken the Negroes and liberal whites to the worldwide problem facing this country.

Answering a question on the speed with which integration should be accomplished, Robinson said, "The Negro has waited 99 years to get the freedom he deserves. If he waits another year, it will only be 100 years. If he does nothing now, it will be another 99 years before he gets equality."

Robinson, first Negro in organized baseball, is a vice president of the Chock-Full-O-Nuts Coffee Co. and is also co-chairman of the national Fund for Freedom of the NAACP.

trate operations on the first floor, attempting to avoid the previous time-consuming system of operating on two floor levels at the plant.

Employes now are making molds, materials are to be delivered in about 10 days and first shipments from the plant are due by the end of June or early in July.

The Royal firm recently completed leasing arrangements for the George plant — out of production in recent months — in order to help meet several large orders its Sebring plant cannot handle.

Miss Miller, is a native of Iowa, whose father was a railroad conductor, and a nephew of the late Sen. William Borah.

Valedictorian of her high school class, she went into advertising for a while then entered business. She rented the then vacant E. H. Sebring Pottery at Sebring and launched Royal about 27 years ago.

Operations of the firm, which now employes 700, are a fulltime basis and require additional plant space to meet orders.

Miss Miller is also active in Red Cross work and civic groups and has provided aid for Mt. Union College at Alliance.

Lawrenceville Carnival Slated

Plans for the annual Lawrenceville firemen's carnival June 6-10 were completed at a meeting of the firemen Thursday night at the fire station.

A parade is planned June 10 at 7 p.m.

Firemen will enter the fire truck and squad car at a Memorial Day parade at Hookstown Tuesday morning at 10:30.

Doctor Cites Cancer Research At Palestine

EAST PALESTINE — Over 100 attended a community meeting on cancer sponsored Thursday night at the American Legion by the post and auxiliary at which Dr. William Flynn of Youngstown, noted cancer authority, spoke.

Dr. Flynn said research holds the key to cancer cures, and he expects some type of vaccine, such as the Salk vaccine curbed polio, to result from medical studies.

He said current research projects are being slowed by lack of funds.

Court Dismisses Dumping Charge

EAST PALESTINE — Four area residents charged with dumping trash at the Carbon Hill Rd. dump area were cleared Thursday by County Judge Herbert Arfman, who made a personal inspection of the site and criticized conditions which he labeled a health hazard.

Judge Arfman said dead calves, cans, dead cats, garbage and other trash were scattered along the roadway about a mile south of here.

Charges filed against four residents by L. T. Williams, county nuisance inspector, were dismissed by the judge, who recommended that Unity Township trustees clean up the site and have it posted.

The city dumping area, a landfill operation by a private contractor is at the site, but is kept in proper condition, it was indicated.

around and surrendered, Capt. Pyle said.

Roach told police he was cut with a straight razor in an argument that broke out after he and Simmons played a game of pool.

Roach was taken to the hospital in a cruiser by Patrolman Stroble. The former football player signed the charge against Simmons this morning in his hospital bed. After the affidavit had been prepared by Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark, Court Clerk Wilbur J. Harmon went to the hospital to witness Roach's signature and administer the oath.

Simmons did not enter a plea to the charge when he was taken before the judge. Questioned by the court, he admitted a charge of fornication and bastardy is pending against him in Beaver County.

Judge Chertoff said the preliminary hearing will be held Monday if Roach is able to appear to testify. He warned Simmons the charge, upon conviction, carries a penalty of 1-5 years in the penitentiary.

for the program in the fiscal year starting July 1:

$1.69 billion for economic aid to countries around the world. The sum includes $500 million for a presidential contingency fund for flexible use in emergencies such as recent developments in Southeast Asia, twice the amount Kennedy estimated for that purpose earlier.

$1,885,000,000 for arms assistance. This is the amount Kennedy mentioned in Thursday's message which outlined much of the program presented today.

$900 million in borrowing authority for funds to make long-term loans for overseas economic development projects.

$300 million additional, to come from repayments by foreign countries on previous loan-aid programs and to be reused for new projects.

Veterans Memorial Swimming Pool which opens Tuesday, Memorial Day, at 1 p.m., if weather permits.

They include Victor Martinetti, manager, $300 a month; Mrs. Pauline Yurich, cashier, $100; Steve Yetso, Rudy Krivoshia, Martin Schulte, Georgiana Raich and Butch Bernabie, lifeguards, $100 each.

Mrs. Ann Wuchina, baby pool attendant, $100; Mrs. Amelia Delfiacco, matron, $100; Fred Ries, Louis Kruel, and Peter G. Roknich, boy checkers, $75, and Marva Kirkland, Maria Passa, Jeanne Waddingham and Sandra Varkonda, girl checkers, $50.

Councilman Lester Trainer moved that they be hired. He commented, in the absence of Councilman William Vinovich, pool chairman, that many applied for the jobs but those selected could use the money for the most good because of hardships.

Trainer reported the pool has been painted and is ready. Sponcer, former pool chairman, said it has been reseamed. Trainer complimented Matt Brozic, borough workers' foreman, and his crew for doing a good job at the pool.

During school, the pool will be open from 4 p. m. to dusk. On weekends and after the school term ends, hours will be 1 to 9 p. m. daily. Rates, which have not changed since 1950, will be continued.

The borough has been troubled by traffic lights burning out, particularly the one at the Spring Ln. and Midland Ave. intersection.

The Kountz Equipment Co. recommended in a letter that the borough could keep its maintenance and costs at a minimum if it purchased two controllers for use while the old unit is repaired. This would reduce the expensive service calls by the company.

Council gave its police committee power to act. The controllers, mentioned in the letter sent Police Chief Ed J. Stefl cost $240 and $370.

The Municipal Water Authority reported that due to new installations to the water system the borough's bill will be increased $165.-64 over the previous annual charge of $7,000.20.

It said quarterly billing now amounts to $1,791.46 instead of prior billing of $1,750.05, an increase of $41.41 per quarter. The first billing at the new charge will be for the quarter ending May 31.

The authority reported that some 1,140 feet of 8-inch mains and 402 feet of 4-inch have been installed along with a fire hydrant at the southeast corner of 12th St. and Beaver Ave. and a hydrant at the intersection of the Midland Slag Co. road and Route 68. The mains were installed in the new Spring Ln.-Midland Ave. sewage plant area.

Mrs. C. K. O'Hara, borough secretary, read a letter from the Pennsylvania Public Utilities Commission which acknowledged the borough's recent letter opposing higher rates being sought by the Peoples Natural Gas Co., which serves Midland.

The Midland Hot Stove League, A. L. Sonnhalter Chapter, was given permission to operate a concession stand at the pool again this summer. Steve Germusa, Council president, said the group will be responsible for keeping the concession area clean.

Mrs. Clem Migliore was granted permission to have curbing cut at her home, 1238 Virginia Ave., for a driveway.

Sponcer commended the Midland Civil Defense for opening up traffic for Midlasd fire trucks on a recent run to a fire at Stop 9.

Several members of Council will ride in the Memorial Day parade Tuesday at 10 p. m., planned by American Legion Post 481.

Council approved payment to Paul Muschweck of Industry in the amount of $1,227 for tree services.

They really are the hit of the season, priced at 1.88 and 2.88.

Then, there's every type of terry beach coat . . . Land-lubber's delight. You'll never want to go into the water when you can look so smart on shore in these jaunty beach coats. Button front and slip-overs with huge rolled collars, two-toned and multi colored priced from 2.99 up. Remember the right beach accessories can make your sun soaking hours much more fun.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing from jail. The judge gave me 120 days for drunken driving. I think this was a pretty stiff sentence since I didn't actually hit anybody. I just ran into a couple of parked cars.

My problem is my girl won't answer my letters. I have written to her 12 times and she sent word with a buddy that she doesn't want to have anything to do with me. I am really nuts about this chick and nobody else will do.

Please print my letter because I know she reads your column every day. I promise I will never again take a drink when I have to drive. Please help me out. —G.J.L.

Dear G.J.L.: I can't help you out — but I'll print your letter since the stamp "Censored —Cook County Jail" is evidence you are on the level.

I hope you mean it when you say you'll never again drive when you've been drinking. You're lucky you're not in for manslaughter.

If your girl hasn't answered any of your dozen letters it means she's not interested—at least for the time being. One thing is certain, if she changes her mind within the next couple of months, she'll know exactly where to find you.

No Harvard Polish

Dear Ann: Recently I was invited to dinner at a friend's home. Two other gentlemen were invited also. They both brought small gifts. I didn't bring a gift but I wrote her a thank you note the following day.

Yesterday I saw the hostess at another gathering. She made quite a point of the fact that these two men always bring a little gift when they have dinner at her home. Then she added: "Men who are educated at Harvard have a special refinement. They know all the niceties."

I don't think she intended to insult me but it so happens that I went no further than high school. Do you think Harvard men have this special refinement? Is a gift expected every time a person accepts a dinner invitation?—CLOD.

Dear Clod: If you think I'm going to take on Harvard, Buster, you rattled the wrong cage.

It's considered a thoughtful gesture to bring a small gift when you accept a home dinner invitation but it is not essential to bring a gift every time—particularly if you are close friends.

I know of no college or university that includes etiquette in the curriculum, however, not even Harvard. Good manners are learned at home.

Happy Housewife

Dear Ann: I see so many young girls rushing into marriage right out of high school that I'd like to say something as an experienced girl who didn't.

I waited until I was 28 to marry. I worked as a secretary, managed to take a trip to Europe, buy a car, nice clothes and a fur coat. I even saved money.

When I was 27 I met a wonderful man, quit my job, got married and had a baby right away. I love being a wife and mother. It's a real thrill. Yet I see so many married women around me who are bored to tears. They consider housework drudgery and, worse yet, they destroy their husband's happiness yearning for things they can't afford.

I've done all my splurging and now it's out of my system. I don't feel I've missed a thing. It's fun to just stay home and set my own schedule. I appreciate being a housewife, and I never want to be anything else.—HAPPY WOMAN.

Dear Happy: Thank you for a wonderful letter. I'll wager your husband is happy, too.

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Arraignment Slated In Grand Larceny Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Walter Harris, 32, a Columbus Workhouse escapee hired as a janitor at the Franklin County Courthouse here, was scheduled to be arraigned today on a grand larceny charge stemming from the theft of $10,648 in cash and checks from the clerk of courts office. Deputy Sheriff Clyde Mann said Harris admitted last Friday's theft and told of spending all of the $1,137 in cash on a weekend spree. He said he threw the checks away.

Harris told Mann he spotted a money bag lying under a safe while cleaning the office. When everybody left, he said, he put the bag into a trash cart and wheeled it away.

Sheriff's deputies said the car hit the trailer portion of a tractor-trailer truck as the vehicles approached from opposite directions on a curve. The truck driver was not hurt.

Union Begins Office Move

Headquarters office operations of the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters how are divided temporarily between the union's 51-year-old building in downtown East Liverpool and its new headquarters on Route 7 near Beaver Local School, dedicated May 6.

Some of the union's operations, including the office of Secretary-Treasurer Charles F. Jordan, now are located in the new building, along with some of the clerical help. Some of the other international officers and clerical workers still are in the old W. 6th St. building.

E. L. Wheatley, president, now is attending a wage conference with a sanitary concern in New York City — along with several vice presidents — but he is expected to move into the new headquarters upon his return.

The phone number of the new building is 385-5613. The number at the old headquarters is unchanged, FU 5-0575, and the mailing address for both offices remains Box 752, East Liverpool.

The Brotherhood's two - story brick building on W. 6th St. was erected in 1910.

No decision has been announced on its disposition. The union indicated at one time the future of the structure may be decided at the international convention, which opens June 27 in Miami Beach.

Little Rock Plans To Desegregate 5 More Of Schools

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Little Rock School Board, acting under the shadow of a federal court order to expand school integration, will desegregate four junior high schools and the city's last all-white high school next fall.

The board Thursday night assigned 25 Negroes to four of the city's five all-white junior high schools. At the same time, it upped from 11 to 24 the number of Negro students in once-white high schools and desegregated all-white Technical High School.

Action on the assignments under state pupil placement procedures was swift and appeared routine. There was no discussion, but board member J. H. Cottrell Jr. voted against the motion to approve assignments at all school levels.

Board action came only four days before a U.S. District Court hearing under a ruling by the 8th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals which suggested that Little Rock expand its desegregation efforts.

Steelmen To Meet

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am writing from jail. The judge gave me 120 days for drunken driving. I think this was a pretty stiff sentence since I didn't actually hit anybody. I just ran into a couple of parked cars.

My problem is my girl won't answer my letters. I have written to her 12 times and she sent word with a buddy that she doesn't want to have anything to do with me. I am really nuts about this chick and nobody else will do.

Please print my letter because I know she reads your column every day. I promise I will never again take a drink when I have to drive. Please help me out. —G.J.L.

Dear G.J.L.: I can't help you out — but I'll print your letter since the stamp "Censored —Cook County Jail" is evidence you are on the level.

I hope you mean it when you say you'll never again drive when you've been drinking. You're lucky you're not in for manslaughter.

If your girl hasn't answered any of your dozen letters it means she's not interested—at least for the time being. One thing is certain, if she changes her mind within the next couple of months, she'll know exactly where to find you.

No Harvard Polish

Dear Ann: Recently I was invited to dinner at a friend's home. Two other gentlemen were invited also. They both brought small gifts. I didn't bring a gift but I wrote her a thank you note the following day.

Yesterday I saw the hostess at another gathering. She made quite a point of the fact that these two men always bring a little gift when they have dinner at her home. Then she added: "Men who are educated at Harvard have a special refinement. They know all the niceties."

I don't think she intended to insult me but it so happens that I went no further than high school. Do you think Harvard men have this special refinement? Is a gift expected every time a person accepts a dinner invitation?—CLOD.

Dear Clod: If you think I'm going to take on Harvard, Buster, you rattled the wrong cage.

It's considered a thoughtful gesture to bring a small gift when you accept a home dinner invitation but it is not essential to bring a gift every time—particularly if you are close friends.

I know of no college or university that includes etiquette in the curriculum, however, not even Harvard. Good manners are learned at home.

Happy Housewife

Dear Ann: I see so many young girls rushing into marriage right out of high school that I'd like to say something as an experienced girl who didn't.

I waited until I was 28 to marry. I worked as a secretary, managed to take a trip to Europe, buy a car, nice clothes and a fur coat. I even saved money.

When I was 27 I met a wonderful man, quit my job, got married and had a baby right away. I love being a wife and mother. It's a real thrill. Yet I see so many married women around me who are bored to tears. They consider housework drudgery and, worse yet, they destroy their husband's happiness yearning for things they can't afford.

I've done all my splurging and now it's out of my system. I don't feel I've missed a thing. It's fun to just stay home and set my own schedule. I appreciate being a housewife, and I never want to be anything else.—HAPPY WOMAN.

Dear Happy: Thank you for a wonderful letter. I'll wager your husband is happy, too.

-:-

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Basketball Sneaks In Picture . . .

We realize this is hardly the time to be talking about basketball. The weather is too warm and the fancy of the fans has turned to baseball, golf and other summer sports.

However, we couldn't sidestep the cage sport Wednesday night for it was the main dish when 24 coaches, athletic directors and sports writers met in Salem to discuss the formation of a new and powerful basketball league.

We're talking of course about the proposed cage circuit which would bring together such powers as Warren, Steubenville Big Red, Canton McKinley, Niles, Massillon, Alliance, Salem, Cuyahoga Falls and East Liverpool.

The question might be asked: Why form a league? The specific intent of a league is to create a keener interest. With a league, especially with the caliber of the teams listed above, there will be more at stake and basketball fans of the area should get a bigger kick out of the games.

Dick Boyd, Warren's fine coach who got the ball rolling for a loop, told the group Wednesday that he and some of the other mentors have been kicking the idea around for several years.

This spring, Boyd, who does not coach any spring sport, found the time and endeavored to learn how many schools were interested.

He told us: "I was overwhelmed with the response. I no sooner sent inquiries than they were returned, indicating great interest."

The league is a good idea, especially from the standpoint of publicity. There's no question but that the league's outstanding players would have a much better chance for statewide recognition at the end of the season.

A more definite step will be taken June 8 at Salem, at another meeting, when each school is expected to have the approval to join the league from the respective school boards.

Murtaugh Makes Some Changes . . .

We can understand that Murtaugh wanted to get a look at Cimoli, who had been out with an injury, but we believe Christopher will be the Pirates' regular left fielder before it's all over, unless Skinner makes one strong comeback.

Skinner is off to the poorest start of his major league career. He is only hitting .234. But even worse, he has left men stranded and only shows three runs batted in.

The outstanding performance by Bobby Shantz in Tuesday's game at Milwaukee helped bolster our belief that the little lefthander has what it takes. Murtaugh's experiment has given the Pirates another starter.

They Remember Allen At Minn.

IF BERNIE ALLEN signs with the Minnesota Twins, fans up that way probably will remember him. It was at Minnesota U. that Allen, directing the Purdue team from quarterback, passed the Boilermakers to one of the biggest upsets of the last football season.

The Twins are eyeing Allen for a second base job, a position he last played in high school. In four years at Purdue, he has handled shortstop and third base.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

MIKE GERRA of Midland Heights, playing golf with his neighbor Jim Johnson, wound up with a hole-in-one Wednesday at the Ohioview Golf course above Midland. Gerra, in his third year of golf, pulled out a six iron to use on the No. 3 hole and dropped in his ace. A greenskeeper was standing on the green and watched the ball drop into the cup.

GEORGE HALE, East Liverpool's All - Ohio halfback three years ago, has been offered a chance to play with the Massillon Tigertown stars and a team from Akron in a fast semi-pro football league, but is undecided about both offers.

—:—

KENNY MILLER, East Liverpool's other half of the offensive punch in basketball this past season, is almost a cinch to enroll at Toledo University where another ex-Potter star — Ray Bigelow — is attending school.

LOOKING BACK 15 years ago today, Irishtown of the City League had won four straight games. . .the old Brooklyn Dodgers were leading the National League by three games and the Boston Red Sox had a six-game edge in the American Loop.

Ten years ago today Golden Star had nipped Irishtown, 10-9, in the City Baseball League, but manager Bob Campbell of Irishtown protested a decision by umpire Chuck Caldwell which allowed a run to score. The victory pushed Golden Star into first place by a half game over the Irish.

Gray Chief set a new record for five furlongs at Waterford Park, covering the distance in one minute flat. . .Higgs Inn was leading the Y-City Softball League, with the gold uniformed VFW team a close second. . .Walt Ashbaugh, the outstanding basketball and track standout from East Liverpool, helped Cornell to an IC4-A track and field championship at Philadelphia by winning the 120-yard high hurdles in 14.4.

Koufax, Davis Team Up To Nip Cards

Twins Halt Tigers' Drive 7-6 In 11

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The three-hit pitching of Sandy Koufax and a seventh-inning home run by Tommy Davis gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 1-0 victory over St. Louis Thursday night in the only National League game played. Cleveland trimmed Detroit's American League lead to 3½ games by beating the Los Angeles Angels 13-5 while Minnesota dropped the Tigers 7-6 in 11 innings.

Southpaw Whitey Ford won his sixth in a row as third place New York beat Boston 6-4, Baltimore rapped the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and Kansas City defeated Washington 4-3, for winless Dick Donovan's fifth one-run defeat, in the other AL games.

Only two other games were scheduled in the National—Pittsburgh at Chicago and Philadelphia at Milwaukee—and both were rained out.

Koufax, now 5-2, struck out eight, walked but three and allowed nothing but singles. Bob Gibson (2-1) was the loser.

The Yankees took a 5-0 lead in two innings against Billy Muffett as Johnny Blanchard and Tony Kubek belted two-run homers. Whitey Ford gave up only five hits, but needed relief help from Luis Arroyo.

The Orioles got all six runs in the first two innings off loser Herb Score (1-2) and relievers Juan Pizarro and Frank Bauman. Steve Barber (6-2) was the winner, but needed reliever Hoyt Wilhelm to nail it.

Johnny Romano, Woody Held, Willie Kirkland and Bubba Phillips rapped homers for the Indians, who had 17 hits against loser Ron Moeller (0-4) and five relievers. Mudcat Grant (4-0) won it with relief from Barry Latman.

A double by Lennie Green and a single by Jim Lemon won it for the Twins and beat Tiger reliever Jim Donohue (1-1). Detroit scored five in the first on homers by Al Kaline and Norm Cash and got the other run in the 10th on Billy Bruton's homer. Reliever Paul Giel won his first for the Twins.

Al Pilarcik's two-run single sewed it up for the A's in a three-run fifth off Donovan. Willie Tasby and Gene Green homered for the Senators' runs off Joe Nuxhall (2-1). Leo Posada of the A's was struck in the face by a Donovan pitch and was taken to a hospital for examination.

A friend was telling us some interesting facts that are not so well known about bees, at least not so well known as the one that couples bees with the flowers.

One of the things that we didn't know was that some species of tropical bees produce a poisonous honey. Another one we didn't know was that good honey is not the exclusive product of bees, but that many species of wasps, and some ants also produce a good honey.

It is said that there is one species that must be pretty smart because they literally make a bed of roses. They line their nests with cuttings from rose leaves and petals.

There are thousands of varieties of bees, but only fourteen families, two of which are the honeybees and the bumblebees, the types most of us are familiar with, that live in highly regimented colonies, and live by strict rules of government within their colonies. Their honey has been one of man's delicacies from ancient times. There are indications that the earliest Egyptians and Greeks practiced beekeeping and noted their example of good organization in their work and lives. So they have been an industrious model for man for many centuries, and in our business we try to follow their invariable object lesson for accomplishing good for others.

Indians Club 4 HR's In 13-5 Win At LA

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland Indians were home to open an 11-game stand against Kansas City tonight, determined to show they can win as well before the home folks as they have been doing on the road.

The Indians, in second place just 3½ games behind first place Detroit, have a relatively poor home record. They have won just eight games while losing seven in Municipal Stadium. In enemy ball parks they're 15-8.

The Indians closed with a bang in Los Angeles, whacking four home runs Thursday en route to a 13-5 triumph over the Angels. Winner Jim Grant (4-0) pitched 6 2-3 innings, then turned the job over to Barry Latman who hurled hitless ball the final 2 1-3 frames.

The home run hitters were John Romano (No. 5), Woodie Held and Bubba Phillips (No. 4 for each), and Willie Kirkland (No. 2). Kirkland and Romano each had three hits and drove in four runs apiece. Romano took over the club lead in home runs and runs batted in (24).

Cleveland collected 17 hits and continued its streak as baseball's hottest club by winning 11 of the last 13 games. During that span, 3½ games have been gained on Detroit.

Starting with four games against Kansas City, the Indians will play 14 straight games against the league's weaker clubs — Minnesota, Los Angeles and Washington —before taking on the Tigers in Detroit June 8, 9 and 10.

Held and Chuck Essegian also had three hits each in the onslaught against six Angels pitchers. The Indians batted around in the fifth inning and scored five runs—Jim Piersall making the first and last out. He was the only player in the Cleveland lineup who failed to deliver a hit.

And did someone say Kirkland was a drag on Cleveland's offense?

Well, take a look at the record. During the Indians' last 13 games, Kirkland has hit at better than a .300 pace with 9 runs batted in, and has raised his average 29 points to .264.

Held and Romano have been even hotter during that same 13-game span.

Held has increased his batting average 39 points to .282 and has driven in 12 runs. Romano has jumped his mark by 23 points to .323 and has whacked across 14 runs.

Wynn Hawkins (4-2) faces Kansas City's Bud Daley (4-5) tonight.

Murtaugh Fines Stuart $50 For Leaving Bench

ST. LOUIS (AP) — First baseman Dick Stuart of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who recently said he would rather be traded than sit on the bench, has been fined $50 for leaving the bench.

Manager Danny Murtaugh said Thursday in Chicago he fined Stuart for leaving the bench without authorization Monday in Milwaukee.

The Pirate skipper said he returned to the clubhouse to get something and discovered Stuart writing a letter.

"I was shocked, I'll tell you," Murtaugh commented. "I don't check on the bench to see that everyone is there. I was surprised and I think Stuart was surprised too when I walked into the clubhouse."

Earlier Stuart had said, "I'd just as soon play elsewhere if I'm not going to be played regularly.

"I feel I have the potential to make a lot of money in baseball. But I can't make it if I don't play in every game," he added.

The Pirates, rained out Thursday in Chicago, open a three-game series here tonight with the Cardinals.

Bob Friend, winner of five of nine decisions, will pitch for the Pirates. Curt Simmons (1-3) will be his opponent.

Guard At Oriole Park Dies At 84

BALTIMORE (AP) — For some 30 years John "Doc" Werner had what he considered "the best job in Baltimore"—a guard at Memorial Stadium during the baseball season.

The 84-year-old Werner, who worked at the stadium through last summer, died Thursday.

He was best known in baseball circles for a unique talent—painting portraits on baseballs.

A former interior decorator, he started his baseball-portrait hobby with a likeness of Babe Ruth. When Ruth saw it, he said, "Gee, that's swell. I want it." And Werner traded it to the Babe for two unpainted baseballs.

After that first effort, Doc did portraits for most of the Baltimore Orioles and many players on visiting teams.

Basketball Sneaks In Picture . . .

We realize this is hardly the time to be talking about basketball. The weather is too warm and the fancy of the fans has turned to baseball, golf and other summer sports.

However, we couldn't sidestep the cage sport Wednesday night for it was the main dish when 24 coaches, athletic directors and sports writers met in Salem to discuss the formation of a new and powerful basketball league.

We're talking of course about the proposed cage circuit which would bring together such powers as Warren, Steubenville Big Red, Canton McKinley, Niles, Massillon, Alliance, Salem, Cuyahoga Falls and East Liverpool.

The question might be asked: Why form a league? The specific intent of a league is to create a keener interest. With a league, especially with the caliber of the teams listed above, there will be more at stake and basketball fans of the area should get a bigger kick out of the games.

Dick Boyd, Warren's fine coach who got the ball rolling for a loop, told the group Wednesday that he and some of the other mentors have been kicking the idea around for several years.

This spring, Boyd, who does not coach any spring sport, found the time and endeavored to learn how many schools were interested.

He told us: "I was overwhelmed with the response. I no sooner sent inquiries than they were returned, indicating great interest."

The league is a good idea, especially from the standpoint of publicity. There's no question but that the league's outstanding players would have a much better chance for statewide recognition at the end of the season.

A more definite step will be taken June 8 at Salem, at another meeting, when each school is expected to have the approval to join the league from the respective school boards.

Murtaugh Makes Some Changes . . .

We can understand that Murtaugh wanted to get a look at Cimoli, who had been out with an injury, but we believe Christopher will be the Pirates' regular left fielder before it's all over, unless Skinner makes one strong comeback.

Skinner is off to the poorest start of his major league career. He is only hitting .234. But even worse, he has left men stranded and only shows three runs batted in.

The outstanding performance by Bobby Shantz in Tuesday's game at Milwaukee helped bolster our belief that the little lefthander has what it takes. Murtaugh's experiment has given the Pirates another starter.

They Remember Allen At Minn.

IF BERNIE ALLEN signs with the Minnesota Twins, fans up that way probably will remember him. It was at Minnesota U. that Allen, directing the Purdue team from quarterback, passed the Boilermakers to one of the biggest upsets of the last football season.

The Twins are eyeing Allen for a second base job, a position he last played in high school. In four years at Purdue, he has handled shortstop and third base.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

MIKE GERRA of Midland Heights, playing golf with his neighbor Jim Johnson, wound up with a hole-in-one Wednesday at the Ohioview Golf course above Midland. Gerra, in his third year of golf, pulled out a six iron to use on the No. 3 hole and dropped in his ace. A greenskeeper was standing on the green and watched the ball drop into the cup.

Koufax, Davis Team Up To Nip Cards

Twins Halt Tigers' Drive 7-6 In 11

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The three-hit pitching of Sandy Koufax and a seventh-inning home run by Tommy Davis gave the Los Angeles Dodgers a 1-0 victory over St. Louis Thursday night in the only National League game played. Cleveland trimmed Detroit's American League lead to 3½ games by beating the Los Angeles Angels 13-5 while Minnesota dropped the Tigers 7-6 in 11 innings.

Southpaw Whitey Ford won his sixth in a row as third place New York beat Boston 6-4, Baltimore rapped the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and Kansas City defeated Washington 4-3, for winless Dick Donovan's fifth one-run defeat, in the other AL games.

Only two other games were scheduled in the National—Pittsburgh at Chicago and Philadelphia at Milwaukee—and both were rained out.

Koufax, now 5-2, struck out eight, walked but three and allowed nothing but singles. Bob Gibson (2-1) was the loser.

The Yankees took a 5-0 lead in two innings against Billy Muffett as Johnny Blanchard and Tony Kubek belted two-run homers. Whitey Ford gave up only five hits, but needed relief help from Luis Arroyo.

The Orioles got all six runs in the first two innings off loser Herb Score (1-2) and relievers Juan Pizarro and Frank Bauman. Steve Barber (6-2) was the winner, but needed reliever Hoyt Wilhelm to nail it.

Johnny Romano, Woody Held, Willie Kirkland and Bubba Phillips rapped homers for the Indians, who had 17 hits against loser Ron Moeller (0-4) and five relievers. Mudcat Grant (4-0) won it with relief from Barry Latman.

A double by Lennie Green and a single by Jim Lemon won it for the Twins and beat Tiger reliever Jim Donohue (1-1). Detroit scored five in the first on homers by Al Kaline and Norm Cash and got the other run in the 10th on Billy Bruton's homer. Reliever Paul Giel won his first for the Twins.

Al Pilarcik's two-run single sewed it up for the A's in a three-run fifth off Donovan. Willie Tasby and Gene Green homered for the Senators' runs off Joe Nuxhall (2-1). Leo Posada of the A's was struck in the face by a Donovan pitch and was taken to a hospital for examination.

Arnold Tied At Indianapolis

Player, Palmer Probably Will Miss Canada Match

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Gary Player of South Africa and the U.S. Open champion, Arnold Palmer, who have won almost $100,000 between them on the American pro circuit this year, indicated they would make a decision today on whether to court a six-month suspension by the Professional Golfers Association.

The question was whether they would play June 1-4 in the Canada Cup international matches at Dorado Beach, Puerto Rico. They could perform unpenalized in this event only if sponsors of the $30,000 Memphis Open, a PGA event on the same dates, gave permission—and they hadn't.

Palmer could defend his Open title even under PGA suspension but he admittedly is eager to play in the Ryder Cup matches in England, in November. Player has said that a golf ball manufacturer has offered him a $10,000 bonus if he finishes the season as the top money winner on the circuit.

In view of the direct and incidental penalties, which include $500 fines, it seemed likely that Player and Palmer would pass up the Canada Cup competition.

Meanwhile, they moved today into the second round of the $50,000 "500 Festival" open tourney with Palmer in a three-way tie for the lead at 67—4 under par. He was matched Thursday over the flat 6,605-yard course by Jim Ferree, winner of one PGA event in five years, and Johnny Pott, third-money winner in the Baton Rouge Open.

MISSISSIPPI'S All-American football and baseball star Jake Gibbs inks a contract Thursday for more than $100,000 to play for the New York Yankees. Receives $100,000 Bonus

Gibbs Signs With Yanks

NEW YORK (AP)—Jake Gibbs, a rebel rouser as an All-America quarterback at Mississippi, starts to get "indoctrinated in Yankee atmosphere" tonight when he checks in as a $100,000 bonus third baseman with the New York Yankees.

Gibbs, 22, was signed by General Manager Roy Hamey at his home in Grenada, Miss., Thursday after completing final exams at Ole Miss. He is to arrive here today and work out for two weeks with the Yanks, who never have shelled out a 100 grand bonus before. Then he'll be assigned to their Richmond farm in the International League.

"We want to have Frank Crosetti (the all-time Yankee shortstop now a coach) work with Gibbs around third base awhile," said Hamey, "and have the kid indoctrinated in Yankee atmosphere. He'll make the next road trip with the club."

Every club in the majors, and the two new National League outfits that aren't officially outfitted yet, were in on the bidding for the 6-foot, 185-pounder who admits to being a left-handed swinging "line drive hitter."

As the sparkplug of Mississippi Sugar Bowl champs — scoring both touchdowns in a 14-6 victory over Rice—Gibbs also was pursued by pro football. He was the sixth draft choice of the Houston Oilers in the American Football League, and was the No. 9 pick of the Cleveland Browns in the NFL.

$1,500 Is Price Players Sell Future In Scandal

NEW YORK (AP)—What's the price at which an unthinking college basketball player will sell his future?

Based on disclosures made so far by Dist. Atty. Frank Hogan in his continuing investigation of corruption in basketball, together with charges brought by North Carolina authorities, the price is about $1,500.

That's about what a graduating engineering student can expect in his first three months on the job.

Some come higher. Others will permit themselves to become entangled for as little as $75 "spending money."

But to what lengths will a game fixer go to buy services to affect the outcome of a game So far, the new basketball mess resulting from the indictment of Aaron Wagman and Joseph Hacken of New York has counted off alleged bribes totaling $37,185. Offered but rejected bribes have totaled $13,750 more.

It follows that $50,000 in bribery or attempted bribery probably was meant to buy gamblers protection on bets totaling at least 10 times as much.

Thirty-nine basketball games have been chronicled in the disclosures that engulf 28 players and 17 colleges and universities from coast-to-coast.

And a spokesman in the New York district attorney's office hints "only the surface seems to have been scratched" so far.

New Records Predicted In California Relays

MODESTO, Calif. (AP)—World records ranging from the 100-yard dash to the four-mile relay go under fire Saturday night in the California Relays.

Dennis Johnson of San Jose State and Stone Johnson of Grambling hold the top hopes of lowering the 100-yard dash record shared by many at 9.3 seconds. Both have run wind-aided 9.2's already this year.

The hard clay track at the Modesto Junior College stadium, site of the relays, is rated one of the fastest in the nation, and it was here two years ago that Oregon's Roscoe Cook ran his 9.3.

Cook and his teammate, Canadian Harry Jerome, are expected to challenge the Johnsons in the century run.

Oregon's mile quartet of Dyrol Burleson, Keith Forman, Vice Reeve and George Larson goes after the world record in the four-mile relay.

Western Michigan furnishes competition along with the Southern California Striders.

America's track queen, Wilma Rudolph, makes her first Northern California appearance. The triple Olympic gold medal winner from Tennessee A&I competes in two special races, women's 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Her classmate, Ralph Boston, the world broad jump record holder, will compete both in that event and the low hurdles.

The pole vault field includes both Olympic champion Don Bragg and Oklahoma State sophomore George Davies who last week cleared 15-10¼ to break Bragg's world record.

Ohio Athletes Vie Today For Spring Sports Titles

By FRITZ HOWELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Baseballs, golf balls, tennis balls, lead balls and a lot of feet were flying all over Columbus today as hundreds of kids sought Ohio's high school four - ply spring sports championships.

Preliminaries in all competitions —baseball, golf, tennis and track-field—got under way today, with the championships being decided Saturday. All events are at Ohio State University's athletic plant.

The biggest explosion is expected in the track carnival, where the best of the more than 1,000 qualifiers are figured to slash at least five records if the weather is clear and the track fast.

Here for the big windup are the survivors of a huge starting field. Of the 827 baseball teams, made up of 20,114 boys, only four in each division came through. But heading the list are Class AA Cincinnati Elder, winner the last three years, and unbeaten Baltimore Liberty Union, the defending Class A king.

Less than 1 of 25 made it to the finals in track, for there are 25,843 youngsters on the 757 cinder teams. In golf, where 2,915 boys started on 281 teams, about 100 youngsters qualified. In tennis, from a field of 145 schools and 1,915 players, 16 individuals and 16 doubles teams made it to the state meet.

In today's first round baseball games The Plains tangled with Windham, and Liberty Union met Coldwater in Class A. Cincinnati Elder had Cleveland South as its foe, and Lima Senior met Lancaster, in Double-A.

First round of the golf tournament's 36-hole route was on tap, as were opening matches in tennis.

Qualifying heats in the dashes and hurdles were scheduled today for both classes in track, along with the Class A championships in the shot put, pole vault and broad jump, and the Class AA discus.

The Class AA top title contenders, based on early - season performances, include Dayton Roosevelt, Springfield South, Sandusky, Cleveland East Tech, Akron Buchtel and Mansfield.

Veteran's, Medic's And Burbick's Win Second Straight In LL Action

Veteran's Plate Glass, Burbick's and Medic's all made it two straight in the Little League standings Thursday.

Veteran Plate Glass, on a hitting spree again, smacked Golden Star, 18-5, in the American Division while National League action saw Burbick's knock over the Chester Legion, 12-2, and the Medic's took a 6-3 decision from McBurney's.

Hammerin Mike McVay, stocky little catcher for the Veteran nine, blasted two home runs and a double to pace a 12-hit attack. Bob Bicker was the winning hurler, striking out eight and allowing six hits.

Butch Beadnell collected a double and single for the losers.

Ed Golden struck out 15 Chester Legion batters and gave up only four hits in Burbick's victory. The Burbick nine collected 11 hits, including two home runs by Mike Goodballet and one from Golden's bat.

The Medic's outlasted McBurney's by outhitting its rival, 16-7. Arrington, Stewart and Frederick stroked two hits each for the winners. Low belted two doubles and a single while Seibert hit safely twice for McBurney's. McDonald was the winning pitcher.

Yesterday's Stars

Pitching—Sandy Koufax, Dodgers, blanked Cardinals on three singles, struck out eight and walked three in 1-0 victory.

Hitting — Jim Lemon, Twins, crashed a two-run homer in fourth inning and then broke up tie with 11th-inning single for 7-6 victory over league leading Tigers.

Re Case May Determine Need Of More Safeguards

By FRANK CORMIER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's 13 stock exchanges have the primary responsibility for keeping themselves honest. Uncle Sam usually stays on the sidelines, keeping his shotgun in the closet.

Whether the closet door might best be opened wide is a question now being debated in the light of the activities of Jerry and Gerard Re, two members of the American Stock Exchange expelled May 4 by order of the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The SEC ruled that the Res, father and son, rigged market prices, sold huge blocks of stock illegally and otherwise flouted the rules of the game between 1954 and 1960.

In the sake of this, the agency announced last week it will make a separate investigation of the American Exchange, the second largest in the land. It wants to find out if the exchange is doing a proper police job, and if investors need added protection.

Many laws and regulations were adopted after the 1929 stock market crash to ensure honesty in Wall Street. This is the last of four articles on a federal investigation aimed at determining whether added safeguards are needed. Frank Cormier, Associated Press financial reporter in Washington and author of the series, explored that ground in a study of the stock manipulation case that set off the inquiry.

The exchange says it has adopted substantial reforms which will effectively prevent another case of the Re type, billed as the largest market manipulation since the depression.

SEC officials got a hint of wrongdoing in 1957 and obtained a federal injunction prohibiting the Res from making illegal stock sales. This stricture was ignored by the Res, who were market specialists for the exchange conducting daily trading in about 20 stocks.

The SEC collected further evidence of misdeeds by the Res in a 1958 case. Still, it did not take direct action against them.

It was the exchange which had first responsibility for keeping the Res in line. While the SEC has authority to make rules governing market specialists, the power has not been used. Rather, the agency has accepted assurances from the exchanges that they can do the job themselves.

This SEC policy will be reviewed in the course of the current inquiry.

Admittedly, it isn't always easy to track down stock market wrongdoing. The Res—who did not contest the SEC charges—seem to have proved this. Still, the record of the Re case has raised some questions about the American Exchange's regulatory mechanisms.

For instance:

For many years the Res ignored requirements that they file a number of different reports with the exchange.

The Res at one time had no brokerage license and notified the exchange that they did no business with the general public. Even so, they conducted an active public business during this period and even executed two transactions, late in 1954, for Edward T. McCormick, the president of the exchange.

Julius R. Van Raalte, board chairman of Thompson-Starrett Co. Inc., said he once wanted the exchange to drop Jerry Re as the specialist for the company's stock. He testified: "I inquired from friends of mine that were on the floor, and they said, 'lay off. That guy owns this joint.'"

Samuel Edelman, a real estate investor, testified he got advance word that Jerry Re was going to push up the price of Thompson-Starrett stock in January 1959 and decided to capitalize on the situation by unloading his shares. When his broker tried to sell at successively lower prices, however, he was told by Jerry Re that another order had priority.

By lunchtime, the price had dropped from $2.75 a share to $2.12 and Edelman had managed to sell only 1,500 of 10,000 shares he offered.

The SEC brief in the case said it simply was a case of Re refusing to let an outsider take advantage of a rigged market.

One policy of the exchange allows a specialist to handle a company's stock if he can induce the company to list its shares for trading. The Res continually added to their stable of stocks in this fashion and developed close ties with corporation managements as a result. The SEC believes these ties were altogether too close in many cases.

Air National Guard Chief Crash Victim

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Investigators sought Thursday the cause of a jet-airplane crash that killed Brig. Gen. Barnie B. McEntire Jr., 43, chief of staff of the South Carolina Air National Guard.

The F104 jet fighter dived into an uninhabited island in the Susquehanna River Wednesday within sight of crowds on Harrisburg's South Bridge.

McEntire had just taken off to return to Congaree Air National Guard Base at East Over, S.C., when his plane plunged into the island.

35,000 Seen For June 10 Potter Picnic

The crowd at the 33rd annual Potters Picnic Saturday, June 10, at Meyers Lake Park in Canton is expected to equal the all-time record of 35,000, the IBOP picnic committee said today as it announced details of the program.

Although definite arrangements are pending, the committee said it expects to arrange chartered bus service to help carry crowds from the East Liverpool area to the Stark County resort.

Albert Kenst of Local 42 at Salem is chairman and Roy Masker of Local 4 in East Liverpool is secretary.

The formal program will follow a pattern that has become traditional over the years. From 11 a.m. until 1 p.m., rides throughout the park will be free, except for the roller coaster and miniature boats.

The annual baby show, known as the largest in Ohio, will get under way at 1:30 p.m. in the dance pavilion. There will be three age brackets — up to 1; between 1 and 2, and 2-3.

The first - place winner in each age bracket will receive a large baby doll and a $50 Savings Bond. Second prize will be a $25 Savings Bond and the third - place winners will be given $10 in Savings Stamps. Every entrant will receive a baby plate. Nurses from Molly Stark Hospital in Canton will be judges.

A penny scramble will be held immediately after the baby show, also in the dancing pavilion. Children in three age groups will compete: 5-7, 8-10 and 11-12. The committee will scatter $25 in pennies for them to pick up.

There will be free dancing in the ballroom from 2:30 to 4:30.

The "junior bathing beauty" contest for youngsters 4-7, inclusive, will be held at 3:15 in Moonlight Gardens, the park's outdoor dancing area. More than 400 were entered in the event last year.

Prizes will be identical to those for the baby contest — $50 and $25 bonds and $10 in Savings Stamps. Each entrant also will receive a gift — baby dolls for the girls and holster sets for the boys.

Ruip Faces Robbery Count In Fort Wayne

CLEVELAND (AP)—Richard C. Ruip, 25, will go to Fort Wayne, Ind., to face a federal charge of robbing the Waynesdale branch of the Peoples Trust & Savings Co. of Fort Wayne.

The bank was held up April 17, and a gunman escaped with $5,200.

At a hearing Thursday before U.S. Commissioner Herbert A. Horn, Ruip was identified as the holdup man by two bank officials —R.F. Rodenbeck, vice president and manager of the branch, and Hugh Creigh, assistant manager.

The holdup came six days after Ruip escaped from Stark County jail in Canton. Ruip, who had escaped from authorities twice previously, was captured near Dover earlier this month after a chase by FBI agents and local authorities.

A federal grand jury at South Bend, Ind., indicted him for the Waynesdale holdup May 12.

Charged In Murder

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Courtney Neese, 33, of Dayton has been charged with first-degree murder in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Jalie Thirkield, 39, Tuesday. Neese, who officials said had been dating Mrs. Thirkield for seven months, surrendered to police Thursday after Ohio and Kentucky officials searched for him for two days.

Sanitary Pact Parley Opens

Wage negotiations are under way in New York City between the International Brotherhood of Operative Potters and the American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corp., covering six of its plants in Ohio, Indiana, California, New Jersey, Louisiana and Ontario, Canada.

The IBOP said the discussions will cover wage increases and improvements in insurance, hospitalization and welfare plans. The discussions are being held in the Edison Hotel.

The affected American Standard plants are located in Tiffin, Kokomo, Ind., Torrance, Calif., Trenton, N. J., New Orleans and Toronto, Ont. The Brotherhood delegation includes E. L. Wheatley, president, W. E. Clawges, William Rail, George Barbaree, Arthur Devlin and George Smith, all vice presidents, and spokesmen for Local Unions 7, 26, 89, 175, 218 and 220.

Meanwhile, the IBOP said its Local 181 has negotiated a new contract with the Wenczel Tile Co. of Trenton that calls for a general 7-cent hourly pay boost. The hike fixes the minimum rate at $2.02 for men and $1.72 for women, the union said.

Army Engineers OK Navigation Project

WASHINGTON (AP)—A navigation project calling for replacement of Locks and Dams 12, 13 and 14 on the Ohio River got the approval of the Army Engineers' Board for Rivers and Harbors Thursday. The Opossum Creek Locks and Dam project, in Ohio and West Virginia, is estimated to cost $55,713,000.

The board's recommendation will be submitted to the chief of Army Engineers who, in turn, will present his views to the secretary of the Army. The next step would be for the secretary to refer the projects to Congress for authorization and, later, appropriation.

Bobtailed Session Waited

Ohio House Will Attempt To Create 24th District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Because of the Memorial Day holiday, the Ohio legislature will hold a bobtailed session next week featured by a Republican attempt in the House to create a 24th congressional district.

But it wouldn't be a good risk to wager any money that a 24th district will come into being as a result of this legislative session.

House approval next Thursday is probable on a bill to create a new 24th district by combining Butler County from the present 3rd District with Warren County from the 7th and Clermont County from the 6th.

But, by the time the bill reaches the Senate, the roof probably will fall in.

Congressmen are a little cozy about their districts and are somewhat less than enthusiastic about the legislati .'s attempts, on occasion, to upset their applecarts.

Congressmen are prone to say in effect: "I was elected in my district as presently constituted. What are you trying to do to me by changing the makeup of my district?"

But, by federal law, there is a census every 10 years and on that census each state is assigned its congressional seats.

During the '30s and '40s, Ohio was entitled to more U.S. House members than it had districts. But the legislature never got around to adopting a redistricting proposal. As a result, during both those decades, Ohio had congressmen at-large—two in the '30s and one in the '40s.

Unless the legislature redistricts the state to provide the 24th district to which Ohio is entitled because of the 1960 census results, the 24th Buckeye congressman will be elected at-large in November 1962.

There is believable report from a responsible source in the legislature that the Ohio delegation to the U.S. House has taken a private vote against any changes in the makeup of Ohio congressional districts. Republicans now control the Ohio delegation 16-7.

The last redistricting law in Ohio was in 1951. It created a 23rd District in Cuyahoga County. It was made to order for the election of Republican George H. Bender. Later, upon the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft, Bender went to the Senate for a brief period, but lost out later.

Objections to any changes now in the congressional districts are expected to flood the State Senate and possibly block any action. But, even if the Senate were to approve any House action to change the districts, the possibility of a veto by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle still looms large. There is no possibility the Republican legislature could override a redistricting veto by DiSalle.

The legislature wound up its 21st work week Thursday and headed into a five-day holiday, its longest of the session which began Jan. 2. Before shutting up shop, the House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Modernize Ohio's bank robbery laws to apply to holdups of drive-in teller booths and holdups involving persons who threaten to explode nitroglycerine to force bank managers to open vaults. Such holdups now come under the armed-robbery laws which carry a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison; the new penalty would range from 20 years to life in prison.

Make the penalty for attempted armed robbery the same as for armed robbery itself. Armed robbery carries a penalty of 10 to 25 years, but the attempted armed robbery law now provides only a 1-15-year prison sentence.

Create a state committee to stimulate the training of workers who lose jobs because of industrial mechanization.

The Senate passed and sent to the House an emergency measure to allow the state to demand immediate payment of taxes levied on liquor permit holders and cigarette dealers whenever the collection of the amount would be jeopardized by delay.

The Senate completed legislative action on House-approved bills to:

Add the operation of educational programs for the retarded to the list of purposes for which a subdivision may ask special tax levies.

Bobtailed Session Waited

Ohio House Will Attempt To Create 24th District

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Because of the Memorial Day holiday, the Ohio legislature will hold a bobtailed session next week featured by a Republican attempt in the House to create a 24th congressional district.

But it wouldn't be a good risk to wager any money that a 24th district will come into being as a result of this legislative session.

House approval next Thursday is probable on a bill to create a new 24th district by combining Butler County from the present 3rd District with Warren County from the 7th and Clermont County from the 6th.

But, by the time the bill reaches the Senate, the roof probably will fall in.

Congressmen are a little cozy about their districts and are somewhat less than enthusiastic about the legislati 's attempts, on occasion, to upset their applecarts.

Congressmen are prone to say in effect: "I was elected in my district as presently constituted. What are you trying to do to me by changing the makeup of my district?"

But, by federal law, there is a census every 10 years and on that census each state is assigned its congressional seats.

During the '30s and '40s, Ohio was entitled to more U.S. House members than it had districts. But the legislature never got around to adopting a redistricting proposal. As a result, during both those decades, Ohio had congressmen at-large—two in the '30s and one in the '40s.

Unless the legislature redistricts the state to provide the 24th district to which Ohio is entitled because of the 1960 census results, the 24th Buckeye congressman will be elected at-large in November 1962.

There is believable report from a responsible source in the legislature that the Ohio delegation to the U.S. House has taken a private vote against any changes in the makeup of Ohio congressional districts. Republicans now control the Ohio delegation 16-7.

The last redistricting law in Ohio was in 1951. It created a 23rd District in Cuyahoga County. It was made to order for the election of Republican George H. Bender. Later, upon the death of Sen. Robert A. Taft, Bender went to the Senate for a brief period, but lost out later.

Objections to any changes now in the congressional districts are expected to flood the State Senate and possibly block any action. But, even if the Senate were to approve any House action to change the districts, the possibility of a veto by Democratic Gov. Michael V. DiSalle still looms large. There is no possibility the Republican legislature could override a redistricting veto by DiSalle.

The legislature wound up its 21st work week Thursday and headed into a five-day holiday, its longest of the session which began Jan. 2. Before shutting up shop, the House passed and sent to the Senate bills to:

Modernize Ohio's bank robbery laws to apply to holdups of drive-in teller booths and holdups involving persons who threaten to explode nitroglycerine to force bank managers to open vaults. Such holdups now come under the armed-robbery laws which carry a maximum penalty of 10 years in prison; the new penalty would range from 20 years to life in prison.

Make the penalty for attempted armed robbery the same as for armed robbery itself. Armed robbery carries a penalty of 10 to 25 years, but the attempted armed robbery law now provides only a 1-15-year prison sentence.

Create a state committee to stimulate the training of workers who lose jobs because of industrial mechanization.

The Senate passed and sent to the House an emergency measure to allow the state to demand immediate payment of taxes levied on liquor permit holders and cigarette dealers whenever the collection of the amount would be jeopardized by delay.

The Senate completed legislative action on House-approved bills to:

Add the operation of educational programs for the retarded to the list of purposes for which a subdivision may ask special tax levies.

2 IN MEMORIAM

IN loving memory of HELEN MOORE, who passed away 1 year ago May 27th.
We have lost our darling mother,
She has bid us all adieu;
She has gone to live in heaven
And her form is lost to view.

Oh! how hard to give her up!
But an angel came down for her
And removed her from our flock
HER LOVING FAMILY

MRS. DENA MACKALL. In loving memory of my dear mother, who passed away 2 years ago today May 26.
While you dear mother rest and sleep, your loving memory I'll always keep. Daughter Alma.

Out Of The Air

By MARIE TORRE

Is International TV Coming?

In the wake of developments signaling the coming of international television, baring more of American TV than exports allow, does present-day television reflect the national image we want the world to see?

Marie Torre

"Until I came to America, I thought violence was a way of American life," said a foreign exchange student whose view of this country was restricted to domestic films circulated abroad.

"I was surprised to find that Americans are not all rich and in a hurry," said another student.

A third foreign respondent in our survey made the TV-inspired observation that American mothers are considerably brighter than American fathers.

IT IS A FACT of video that what is popular here is popular abroad, meaning that the foreign market is overrun with such irrelevant instances of American life as "December Bride," "I Love Lucy," "Gunsmoke," "The Untouchables," "Maverick" and "Bonanza." These were designed for U.S. consumption, and should have stayed here!

With transoceanic television on the horizon, it is an irresponsible member of the industry who will not consider the ill-effects of presenting the negative aspects of American life.

"I wish," said Eun Chung Lee of Seoul, Korea, for two years an industrial management student of the college of the City of New York, "that Americans would send over more educational programs, shows that would give a truer picture of the country.

"IN ENTERTAINMENT shows like those of Arthur Murray and Perry Como, we find out more about American show business than about American people.

"In Westerns, we see much that is unpleasant. The conservative people in my homeland prohibit their children from watching these because they are too cruel."

Even in Denmark the TV Western has a dubious reputation. From Anker Buch, a young Dane at Julliard:

"When I was younger, I used to think that the American West was the way it was depicted in your TV shows. Now I know it isn't.

"Sometimes I find Westerns entertaining. But when they got violent, my mother turns off the set. All that violence, she says, is unnecessary."

HOW IMMINENT is international TV?

On the heels of the announcement that RCA would build the first experimental communications satellite in mid-1962, the American Broadcasting Co. reports from the First International Festival of Television Arts and Sciences in Montreaux, Switzerland, that network engineers have developed "a revolutionary all electronictelevision standards converter."

This brings worldwide television a step closer in that it is capable of transforming videotape or picture signals from any broadcast standard used any place in the world to any other standard without applying the faulty kinescope methods now in universal use.

In sum, transoceanic TV is just around the corner. The need for better, truer television is not only imperative but also urgent!

A SUMMER RARITY, a "live" all - new series ("Glen Miller Time") will replace "Hennesey" during the hot weather months on CBS, beginning July 17. . . .

Pay-TV report from Etobicoke, Canada: Alfred Hitchcock's "Psycho," offered to the 5,800 pay-TV subscribers two weeks after the local theater run, recorded a Telemeter gross of $2,550 as against the theater's $2,241. . . .

Actor Burgess Meredith, whose father was a doctor, will be host of "Doctor B," a story of medical practice as seen through the eyes of a typical family doctor on NBC June 27. . . .

The next news event slated for extensive TV coverage will be President Kennedy's meetings with French President DeGaulle in Paris and Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna. On NBC, for example, there will be four "JFK Reports" on the subject, as well as a series of five special radio programs. "The President in Europe"), not to mention up-to-the-minute news coverage.

2 In County Honored As Sclerosis Mothers

Mrs. Donald Moore of 19 Sunset Dr. and Mrs. Howard Pardee of Salem have been selected "Multiple Sclerosis Mothers of the Year" in conjunction with the annual Columbiana County fund drive now under way.

They were chosen by the executive board of the county MS service.

The honor is awarded on the basis of personality and character as reflected in home life.

Mrs. Darrell Fadely of Salem, chairman, explained: "The Columbiana County MS Service found it impossible to choose between these two MS patients. Both have maintained outstanding homes in spite of their handicaps resulting from this crippling disease of the central nervous system."

Mrs. Moore has a daughter, Sally Ann, in the seventh grade. Her husband is employed by the Sterling China Co. in Wellsville. The Pardees have two children, Howard Jr. and Lorraine, a senior at Salem High School. The father is band instructor at the high school.

Ralph A. Finley has been named chairman of the East Liverpool phase of the fund drive by Alfred L. Fitch, county chairman.

"Funds received," Finley pointed out, "will be used for national research into the cause and cure of this mysterious disease and to support the local patient service program."

Seventeen patients are registered with the Columbiana County MS Service and its affiliate, the Tru-Mah-Col Chapter of Youngstown. Available services include occupational and physical therapy, emergency nursing and medical care, equipment and, contingent upon the success of the campaign, a cost-free annual physical examination, Finley said.

Details of this program are now being worked out by members of the chapter's medical advisory board and the county medical associations.

Contributions to the Multiple Sclerosis Hope Chest may be made at cannisters in local business establishments or by mailing them to Ralph A. Finley, 409 Washington St., East Liverpool.

Thompson Park Pool Will Open Saturday

The swimming pool at Thompson Park was being filled today for its official opening Saturday with everything in readiness for another summer season.

William Bell, park manager, said the pool will be open tomorrow, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, then close Thursday and Friday until schools are dismissed, and reopening Saturday, June 3 for the regular season.

He said the staff includes James Harris and Robert Hedmond, athletic director and director of lifeguards; Joe Burke, Jack Deshler and Susan Vodrey, lifeguards; Wayne Ganas and John D'Angelo; boys lockerroom attendants; Patty Havens and Jean Landis, girls' lockerroom attendants, and Erla Barton, cashier.

Sydney, Australia, has the largest area of any city in the world.

Club Studies GOP Merger

The possibility of merging with the Beaver County Republican Club was discussed at a meeting of the Ohioville Borough Republican Club Wednesday evening in the Ohio Township Building.

By-laws of the county group were examined. The club decided to have its Executive Board make a further study and make a recommendation.

Mike Selak was named by Earl Scheel, chairman, to head a nominating committee and present a slate of officers to be elected at the next meeting, a coverdish dinner, in June. The date will be announced.

Selak will be assisted by Mrs. Earl Scheel, Mrs. West Saucer, Mrs. George Gailey Jr. and Floyd Kidder.

Residents asked about rumors that Richard Rice had resigned from politics. He is a township supervisor and a candidate for Council in the November election. The township becomes a borough Jan. 1. Elmer Gifford, burgess candidate, denied the rumors on behalf of Rice.

Scheel reminded all primary candidates they are required by law to file a statement of expenses. If nothing was spent, such a statement must be filed, he said. Forms are available at his home.

Mrs. F. Paul Dawson, ways and means chairman, announced a mobile bake sale will be held Friday, June 9, beginning at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Elmer Gifford and Mr William Griffin will assist.

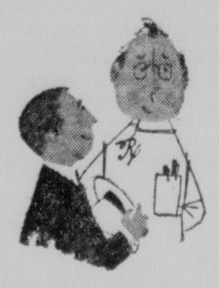
The Executive Board will meet tonight at 8 at the Dawson home. A meeting of all GOP candidates and leaders will be held at the Scheel home on a date to be announced.

Scheel, chairman, presided.

Receives Medal

NEW YORK (AP) — For his "outstanding achievements in the industry," Charles M. White of Toledo, honorary chairman of Republic Steel Corp., was given the Gary Memorial Medal of the American Iron and Steel Institute Thursday night.

"How about one of those wonder drugs?"



"I've got a cold," the man said, and he went on to ask for a "wonder drug." The pharmacist sold him some aspirin and advised him to see his physician. As it happened the aspirin fixed him up fine, but the point is this: Pharmacists are not physicians. We work with doctors, providing the drugs and medicines they prescribe. We have a professional knowledge of the powerful new "wonder drugs," so we know how important it is to use them correctly. Please do not feel offended when your pharmacist refuses to sell you a certain drug. It is for your protection and in the best interest of your good health. Always see your doctor when potent medication is required.

Is International TV Coming?

In the wake of developments signaling the coming of international television, baring more of American TV than exports allow, does present-day television reflect the national image we want the world to see?

Marie Torre

"Until I came to America, I thought violence was a way of American life," said a foreign exchange student whose view of this country was restricted to domestic films circulated abroad.

"I was surprised to find that Americans are not all rich and in a hurry," said another student.

A third foreign respondent in our survey made the TV-inspired observation that American mothers are considerably brighter than American fathers.

IT IS A FACT of video that what is popular here is popular abroad, meaning that the foreign market is overrun with such irrelevant instances of American life as "December Bride," "I Love Lucy," "Gunsmoke," "The Untouchables," "Maverick" and "Bonanza." These were designed for U.S. consumption, and should have stayed here!

With transoceanic television on the horizon, it is an irresponsible member of the industry who will not consider the ill-effects of presenting the negative aspects of American life.

"I wish," said Eun Chung Lee of Seoul, Korea, for two years an industrial management student of the college of the City of New York, "that Americans would send over more educational programs, shows that would give a truer picture of the country.

"IN ENTERTAINMENT shows like those of Arthur Murray and Perry Como, we find out more about American show business than about American people.

"In Westerns, we see much that is unpleasant. The conservative people in my homeland prohibit their children from watching these because they are too cruel."

Even in Denmark the TV Western has a dubious reputation. From Anker Buch, a young Dane at Julliard:

"When I was younger, I used to think that the American West was the way it was depicted in your TV shows. Now I know it isn't.

"Sometimes I find Westerns entertaining. But when they got violent, my mother turns off the set. All that violence, she says, is unnecessary."

HOW IMMINENT is international TV?

On the heels of the announcement that RCA would build the first experimental communications satellite in mid-1962, the American Broadcasting Co. reports from the First International Festival of Television Arts and Sciences in Montreaux, Switzerland, that network engineers have developed "a revolutionary all electronictelevision standards converter."

This brings worldwide television a step closer in that it is capable of transforming videotape or picture signals from any broadcast standard used any place in the world to any other standard without applying the faulty kinescope methods now in universal use.

In sum, transoceanic TV is just around the corner. The need for better, truer television is not only imperative but also urgent!

A SUMMER RARITY, a "live" all - new series ("Glen Miller Time") will replace "Hennesey" during the hot weather months on CBS, beginning July 17. . . .

Pay-TV report from Etobicoke, Canada: Alfred Hitchcock's "Psycho," offered to the 5,800 pay-TV subscribers two weeks after the local theater run, recorded a Telemeter gross of $2,550 as against the theater's $2,241. . . .

Actor Burgess Meredith, whose father was a doctor, will be host of "Doctor B," a story of medical practice as seen through the eyes of a typical family doctor on NBC June 27. . . .

The next news event slated for extensive TV coverage will be President Kennedy's meetings with French President DeGaulle in Paris and Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna. On NBC, for example, there will be four "JFK Reports" on the subject, as well as a series of five special radio programs. "The President in Europe"), not to mention up-to-the-minute news coverage.

2 In County Honored As Sclerosis Mothers

Mrs. Donald Moore of 19 Sunset Dr. and Mrs. Howard Pardee of Salem have been selected "Multiple Sclerosis Mothers of the Year" in conjunction with the annual Columbiana County fund drive now under way.

They were chosen by the executive board of the county MS service.

The honor is awarded on the basis of personality and character as reflected in home life.

Mrs. Darrell Fadely of Salem, chairman, explained: "The Columbiana County MS Service found it impossible to choose between these two MS patients. Both have maintained outstanding homes in spite of their handicaps resulting from this crippling disease of the central nervous system."

Mrs. Moore has a daughter, Sally Ann, in the seventh grade. Her husband is employed by the Sterling China Co. in Wellsville. The Pardees have two children, Howard Jr. and Lorraine, a senior at Salem High School. The father is band instructor at the high school.

Ralph A. Finley has been named chairman of the East Liverpool phase of the fund drive by Alfred L. Fitch, county chairman.

"Funds received," Finley pointed out, "will be used for national research into the cause and cure of this mysterious disease and to support the local patient service program."

Seventeen patients are registered with the Columbiana County MS Service and its affiliate, the Tru-Mah-Col Chapter of Youngstown. Available services include occupational and physical therapy, emergency nursing and medical care, equipment and, contingent upon the success of the campaign, a cost-free annual physical examination, Finley said.

Details of this program are now being worked out by members of the chapter's medical advisory board and the county medical associations.

Contributions to the Multiple Sclerosis Hope Chest may be made at cannisters in local business establishments or by mailing them to Ralph A. Finley, 409 Washington St., East Liverpool.

Thompson Park Pool Will Open Saturday

The swimming pool at Thompson Park was being filled today for its official opening Saturday with everything in readiness for another summer season.

William Bell, park manager, said the pool will be open tomorrow, Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, then close Thursday and Friday until schools are dismissed, and reopening Saturday, June 3 for the regular season.

He said the staff includes James Harris and Robert Hedmond, athletic director and director of lifeguards; Joe Burke, Jack Deshler and Susan Vodrey, lifeguards; Wayne Ganas and John D'Angelo; boys lockerroom attendants; Patty Havens and Jean Landis, girls' lockerroom attendants, and Erla Barton, cashier.

Sydney, Australia, has the largest area of any city in the world.

Club Studies GOP Merger

The possibility of merging with the Beaver County Republican Club was discussed at a meeting of the Ohioville Borough Republican Club Wednesday evening in the Ohio Township Building.

By-laws of the county group were examined. The club decided to have its Executive Board make a further study and make a recommendation.

Mike Selak was named by Earl Scheel, chairman, to head a nominating committee and present a slate of officers to be elected at the next meeting, a coverdish dinner, in June. The date will be announced.

Selak will be assisted by Mrs. Earl Scheel, Mrs. West Saucer, Mrs. George Gailey Jr. and Floyd Kidder.

Residents asked about rumors that Richard Rice had resigned from politics. He is a township supervisor and a candidate for Council in the November election. The township becomes a borough Jan. 1. Elmer Gifford, burgess candidate, denied the rumors on behalf of Rice.

Scheel reminded all primary candidates they are required by law to file a statement of expenses. If nothing was spent, such a statement must be filed, he said. Forms are available at his home.

Mrs. F. Paul Dawson, ways and means chairman, announced a mobile bake sale will be held Friday, June 9, beginning at 9:30 a. m. Mrs. Elmer Gifford and Mr William Griffin will assist.

The Executive Board will meet tonight at 8 at the Dawson home. A meeting of all GOP candidates and leaders will be held at the Scheel home on a date to be announced.

Scheel, chairman, presided.

Receives Medal

NEW YORK (AP) — For his "outstanding achievements in the industry," Charles M. White of Toledo, honorary chairman of Republic Steel Corp., was given the Gary Memorial Medal of the American Iron and Steel Institute Thursday night.

"How about one of those wonder drugs?"

"I've got a cold," the man said, and he went on to ask for a "wonder drug." The pharmacist sold him some aspirin and advised him to see his physician. As it happened the aspirin fixed him up fine, but the point is this: Pharmacists are not physicians. We work with doctors, providing the drugs and medicines they prescribe. We have a professional knowledge of the powerful new "wonder drugs," so we know how important it is to use them correctly. Please do not feel offended when your pharmacist refuses to sell you a certain drug. It is for your protection and in the best interest of your good health. Always see your doctor when potent medication is required.
